Dental Van Returning to Christmas Valley Soon

The Dental Van and its personnel provide free dental care to low-income individuals with urgent needs. Qualifications for this program fall under the Federal Poverty Guidelines. Patients need to meet a certain financial criteria as well as have no dental insurance or access to dental care. Dental extractions, fillings and x-rays are procedures typically done with state-of-the-art equipment.

The Dental Van runs at a cost of $600.00 per day. Dr. Spencer Krueger DDS and his wife Mary LeFevre, PharmD, graciously volunteer their time, but donations are critical in order to keep this service returning. Thankfully, the bulk of financial assistance is from the Christmas Valley Community Church. Also, a thank you to clients of the Dental Van as they are so good about leaving a donation for the care they receive. Such donations can be made at the time of service, or mailed to:

North Lake Health District
P.O. Box 844
Christmas Valley, OR 97641

The Dental Van will again be in Christmas Valley soon. There are appointments still available for urgent care. Please call Shawn at 541-576-2110 to see if you qualify for an appointment.

Back in Thyme Herbals: Herbal Actions Defined - Part 3

By Linda McCoslin

PECTORAL herbs have a general strengthening and healing effect on the respiratory system. Included are: Angelica, Aniseed, Balm of Gilead, Balsam of Peru, Balsam of Tolu, Blood Root, Colts Foot, Comfrey, Elder, Elecampane, Garlic, Goldenseal, Hyssop, Iceland Moss, Irish Moss, Liquerice, Lingwort, Marshmallow, Mouse Ear, Mullien, Pleurisy Root, Senega, Skunk Cabbage, Vervain, and White Horehound.

RUBEFACIENT herbs, when applied to the skin, cause a gentle local irritation and stimulate the dilation of the capillaries, increasing circulation in the skin. The blood is drawn from deeper parts of the body into the skin and often internal pains are relieved. These herbs include: Cayenne, Cloves, Garlic, Ginger, Horseradish, Mustard, Nettle, Peppermint Oil, Rosemary Oil, and Rue.

A SEDATIVE calms the nervous system and reduces stress and nervousness throughout the body. They can affect the tissue of the body that has been irritated by nervous problems. These herbs are: Black Cohosh, Black Haw, Bladderwrack, Blue Cohosh, Blood Root, Boldo, Bugleweed, Chamomile, Cowslip, Cramp Bark, Hops, Jamacian Dogwood, Ladies Slipper, Lobelia, Mother Wort, Basque Flower, Passion Flower, Red Clover, Red Poppy, Saw Palmetto, Skullcap, St. Johns Wort, Valerian, Wild Cherry, Wild Lettuce, and Wild Yam.

SIALAGOGUES stimulate the secretion of saliva from the salivary glands. Such herbs are: Blood Root, Blue Flag, Cayenne, Centaury, Gentian, Ginger, Prickley Ash, and Senega.

A STIMULANT herb quickens and enlivens the physiological function of the body. Stimulant herbs are: Angelica, Balm of Gilead, Balmony, Bayberry, Benzion, Bladderwrack, Caraway, Cardamon, Cayenne, Cinnamon, Dandelion, Eucalyptus, Galangal, Garlic, Gentian, Ginseng, Gravel Root, Ground Ivy, Horseradish, Juniper, Marigold, Mustard, Pennyroyal, Peppermint, Prickley Ash, Rosemary, Rue, Sage, Southernwood, Tansy, White Horehound, Wild Yam, Wormwood, and Yarrow.

STYPTIC herbs will reduce or stop external bleeding by their astringency. For a list of these herbs, refer to ASTRINGENTS in the February 1st, 2016 issue of Desert Whispers.

TONICS strengthen and enliven either specific organs or the whole body. This long list of herbs makes more sense when the section on tonics in each body system is revised: Agrimony, Angelica, Aniseed, Balm, Balmony, Bayberry, Bearberry, Beth Root, Bistort, Black Cohosh, Black Haw, Black Root, Bogbean, Boldo, Boneset, Buchu, Buckthorn, Bugleweed, Burdock, Calumba, Carline Thistle, Cayenne, Centaury, Chamomile, Cleavers, Coltsfoot, Comfrey, Condurango, Couchgrass, Cranesbill, Damiana, Dandelion, Echinacea, Elecampane, Eyebright, False Unicorn Root, Fringetree, Fumitory, Garlic, Gentian, Ginseng, Golden Seal, Gravel Root, Grindelia, Ground Ivy, Hawthorn, Horsechestnut, Hydrangea, Hyssop, Iceland Moss, Lady's Slipper, Liquorice, Lime, Marigold, Mistletoe, Motherwort, Mountain Grape, Mugwort, Mustard, Myrrh, Nettle, Oats, Parsley, Periwinkle, Poke Root, Raspberry, Red Clover, Rue, Sarsaparilla, Skullcap, Squaw Vine, Tam-arind, Tansy, Thyme, Vervain, Virginia Snake Root, Wild Yam, Wood Betony, Wormwood, Yarrow, and Yellow Dock.

A VULNERARY is applied externally to aid the body in the healing of wounds and cuts. Herbs are: Aloe, Arnica, Bistort, Black Willow, Burdock, Chickweed, Cleavers, Comfrey, Cranesbill, Daisy Elder, Elecampane, Fenugreek, Flaxseed, Garlic, Golden Seal, Horsetail, Hyssop, Irish Moss, Marigold, Marshmallow, Mullein, Myrrh, Plantain, Poke Root, Shepherd's Purse, Slippery Elm, St. John's Wort, Thyme, Witch Hazel, Wood Betony, and Yarrow.

If you make a habit of saving these articles you will find they make an excellent reference list to most questions you may have, for alternatives to using chemicals for what may be ailing you, as well as knowing what you are reading as far as terminology words. I will return to the herbs themselves in the next issue.

Enjoy this beautiful SPRING weather as the sun finally is showing its face. God be with you all.

Transition - Is Christmas Valley Ready? By Rev. Devon J. Noll

Is Christmas Valley ready to transition forward into a new future?

When I was choosing a name for a new foundation to be based here in Christmas Valley, I chose The Grain of Mustard Foundation for a number of reasons. For those who do not know what a grain of mustard can do, consider this: it is the seed for a plant that can be used to spice up a food or it can be used for medicinal purposes, but it can also be an invasive plant and must be managed so that it does not destroy other plants.

For those of you who are into Biblical references, you know that a grain of mustard, which is very, very small, is all that is needed to move mountains because it represents a grain of faith that changes the minds and hearts of mankind. This is part of why I chose the name: In part because it will take faith of all kinds, not just hard work, to make this the kind of town that can be self-sustaining, economically independent, and energy independent in times of emergency and it must take faith in each other, trust in each other, to make us the kind of community we all would like to see.

For us to transition, we need to understand that many long-time practices and self-defeating practices need to come to an end. This may mean how we change our community at its very soul, and it will take a belief that it is for the better for everyone, not just a select few, that must prevail. We need to care for this community as though it were the most fragile being in the world, and that we all have a responsibility to care for and protect it from practices that limit us economically and sustainably at the moment.

There are many people in this community who want to help it move forward. We are dependent for the most part of two things: hay farming and tourism, of a sort. We have no say in the hay farming operations around here, and many here depend on these farmers for jobs. However, we can find ways to encourage tourism.

Eco-tourism is one of the largest growing segments of the hospitality industry, and we have an opportunity to capitalize on it. But, and it is a big but, we need to do so sustainably, and that means we need to start finding ways to use water more equitably. When the farmers have prior claim on all water in this valley, and granted they are in a business that uses more than the average homeowner, it makes it difficult for new people to buy land where they could be independent and self-sufficient or other landowners to use water on a smaller scale for sustainable purposes. This does not have to be problematic. Farming for food and other goods like medicinal herbs or orchards is done everywhere in the world where water is an issue. We can start out our eco-tourism hook with the use of alternative water collection and low-water use farming techniques, and once we learn how, offer classes to others in other desert or ABOVE: The first ranger at Cabin Lake lived in Fort Rock and commuted to work. Later the ranger position moved to Bend during consolidation of the Bend-Fort Rock Ranger District, and these buildings then served as a seasonal fire guard station. After the change was made to a "fire department" style of management all fire guard crews were stationed in Bend also. The abandoned buildings are falling into disrepair.

LEFT: The wildlife blinds draw photographers and birders from throughout North America. The presence of these little puddles of water in a vast expanse of dry forest draws wildlife like a magnet. - Photos by Jim Ford.

Cabin Lake Ranger Station

M.E. "Jack" Swisher
Fort Rock Homestead Museum

Cabin Lake Ranger Station administered the largest timber sales of the Pacific Northwest after WWII. Rails were laid from Bend by the Brooks Scanlon Mill and loggers camps sprouted at several different locations in the woods. Hundreds of men and their families earned a decent living by turning pine logs from the Fort Rock District into lumber. Now the ranger station is quiet. Birders flock to the old blind to view and photograph cross-bills, white headed woodpeckers, and pygmy nuthatches at the wildlife guzzler. A journal is available for noting interesting sightings. Thanks to Jim Ford for sharing these recent photos. Motor vehicles prohibited until April 1.

Be in the BAND!

Were you in Swing Band, Marching Band or Pep Band in high school or college? Wouldn't it be great to practice music again and play as a group? Maybe you're tired of letting all those years go to waste. Well personally I miss it badly and I think we could have a great time at it! Isn't it time we have our own marching band for our Christmas Valley 4th of July parade and Mosquito festival parade?

No person too old!

Give me a call!

We soon will call a meeting of all who are helping just to let you know how, where, when the plan will get going and who else we can add to the list that may need help next.

New Staff Joins Fremont-Winema National Forest

LAKEVIEW, Ore. – The Fremont-Winema National Forest recently welcomed two new staff members – Klamath District Ranger Heather Berg and Recreation, Engineering, Archaeology, Lands and Minerals (REALM) Staff Officer Chuck Burley.

Berg comes to the Forest from the Nez Perce-Clearwater National Forests in Idaho, where she served as Recreation, Wilderness, Trails and Rivers Manager.

She brings more than 25 years of Forest Service experience with her and has held a variety of positions, including environmental coordinator, planning forester, stewardship contracting coordinator and Wild and Scenic Rivers administrator.

Berg is a graduate of Humboldt State University in Arcata, Calif., and holds a bachelor's degree in forest resource management.

"The District is amazing – from the employees to the numerous resources and outstanding recreation opportunities," Berg said. "I'm looking forward to getting to know the local communities and working with the many partners helping us do great work on the ground."

Berg's husband is retired from the Forest Service and they are excited about settling into Klamath Falls and exploring the area's hiking and biking, lakes and campgrounds.

Heather is stationed at the Klamath Falls Office and can be reached at 541-883-6714.

Burley is returning to the Forest Service after serving in a variety of positions in private industry. Most recently he worked in timber, government liaison and public affairs positions.

Early in his career, he spent approximately 10 years working for the Forest Service in research and information technology. He also holds a forestry degree from Colorado State University in Fort Collins.

Burley has also worked in forest policy advocacy positions and served as a member of the Oregon State House of Representatives.

"I'm happy to be returning to the Forest Service and working on the Fremont-Winema," Burley said. "I've enjoyed recreating on the Forest for many years and look forward to working with the employees in the REALM staff area to continue to provide quality public services."

Burley's wife is a teacher in Bend and, while they will continue to be part of the community in Bend, they are looking forward to joining the community in Lakeview and enjoying golf, fishing and the wealth of recreation opportunities on the Fremont-Winema National Forest.

Chuck is stationed at the Lakeview Interagency Office and can be reached at 541-947-2151.

"We are thrilled to have both Heather and Chuck joining the Fremont-Winema National Forest," said Forest Supervisor Connie Cummins.

Ruth Rachel Stutzman: September 2, 1939 - February 19, 2016

Ruth Rachel Stutzman, a resident of Christmas Valley, peacefully passed away at home surrounded by her family on Friday, February 19, 2016 at the age of 76.

A Viewing, Funeral Service, and Concluding Interment were held on Saturday, February 27, 2016 at Christmas Valley Community Church and Silver Lake Cemetery respectively.

Ruth Rachel Hofer was born in Cardston, Alberta, Canada on September 2, 1939 to Peter and Kay Hofer. She lived in Canada until the age of 11 when the family moved to Kalispell, Montana. Ruth accepted Jesus as her Savior on August 24, 1952 and joyfully loved and served Him all her life.

When she was a sophomore in high school she began attending Western Mennonite High School in Salem, Oregon which is where she met her future husband, Mervin Stutzman. They graduated in 1958 and were married on June 5, 1959 at Mountain View Mennonite Church in Kalispell. Merv and Ruth began their married life in Brownsville, Oregon where they farmed, raised chickens and owned and operated a gas station.

To this union six children were born, Wayne Stutzman (wife Pat) of Payette, Idaho; Kathy Perez (husband Gilbert) of Kalona, Iowa; Karen Comacho (husband Al) of Prescott Valley, Arizona; Karla McCord (husband Don) of Christmas Valley, Oregon; Kendra Gingerich (husband Klint) of Kalona, Iowa; and Kerry Hall (husband Steve) of Kalona, Iowa.

In 1968 the family moved to Pasco, Washington and settled into the farming community there. Eleven years later they moved to Frenchglen, Oregon. After that, they made their home in the Willamette Valley at which time Merv began farming in Christmas Valley. They spent time in both places until they moved permanently to Christmas Valley in 1992.

She loved family and all her "babies"; loved being a mom and cooking and gardening, traveling in their motorhome, fishing, being involved in church, serving as youth leaders at Fairview Mennonite Church, teaching Vacation Bible School, cooking for large crowds at church, her church family and friends. Her greatest desire was to see her family all come to the Lord and serve Him.

Ruth leaves behind, to mourn, her beloved husband of 56 years; her children; sixteen grandchildren; Cammy (Perez) Baker; Carleen (Perez) Miller; Christopher Perez and Casey Perez; Sydnie (Ulrich) Dunstan; Savannah (Ulrich) Randolph and Harrison Ulrich; Clarke, Chance and Cameron McCord; Dillon Gingerich, Victoria (Gingerich) Schrock and Erika Gingerich; Dayton, Olivia and Maya Hall. There are also 11 great-grandchildren.

She also leaves behind sisters Dorothy Miller of Stover, Missouri and Carol Dashiell of Christmas Valley; brother Benny Hofer and sister-in-law, Connie of Bonners Ferry, Idaho; brother-in-law Verle Stutzman of Pasco; aunt Mary Fossom of Calgary, Alberta; and numerous nieces and nephews. Preceding her in death were her parents Peter & Kay Hofer; brother Donny Hofer; infant sister, and nephew, Shane Hofer.

The last line of her handwritten obituary message says, "Thank you, Lord, for my wonderful husband. You were the best ever."

Contributions in memory of Ruth can be made to the Christmas Valley Community Church Fall Festival, PO Box 66, Christmas Valley, OR 97641.

Baird Memorial Chapel of La Pine is honored to serve Mrs. Stutzman's family.

Transition

Climate change is already affecting this valley. Our winters are not what they were historically. We suffer drought regularly and early springs are helping with profits for hay farmers, but not by enough. We are experiencing different weather patterns and we need to learn to adapt to them, and we can teach others what we learn. But we must be willing to work together to do so. We have people here who are familiar with a variety of self-sustaining practices and we need them to help us learn as a community.

We can transition slowly to accommodate changes in climate, economy, and energy and thereby insure our survival as a community, or we can stagnate here, watching our children leave and not return, and our jobs dry up as hay farms are depleted and water tables dry up. The choice is ours, and if you would be interested in helping formulate ways to move forward that will work for all of us, please call me at (541) 576-4265 and give me an hour or two of your time over the next month to start sowing mustard grains in our community.

“Hi, I am Alive and Well Today.”

By Rev. Devon J. Noll

We have many neighbors who live alone, many of them in remote locations where they have lived for years. We see them seldom either because they are housebound, do not drive, or only come to town for church or to get groceries. They have pets that they love and who depend on them. Many of these neighbors are older members of our community and may not have family here or even close-by to be of help in an emergency.

So, at the suggestion of Max Sherman, I am offering you an opportunity: either call me once a day to let me know you are well and safe, or set up a phone tree of friends and neighbors who can do the same for you. If you need a phone, contact your state social service agency, and find out about cell phones or landlines for people who live alone and need one for emergencies. Some organizations can be found through your churches that will provide such phones for free if you apply.

The idea is part of an ongoing idea that we need to be closer connected to each other if we are going to be a community that cares or not. Far too many times our elderly or housebound citizens fear what will happen if they fall, get sick, or even die and no one knows what has happened to them and their pets suffer as a result. A simple one or two minute phone call to just say “Hi, this is (name), and I wanted to let you know I am alive and well today.” is all that is needed, and sometimes it can lead to a few minutes of your time to talk and comfort someone who is lonely or to share a funny story or offer some advice or help. If someone does not hear from you, arrange for them to call your home and if you do not answer and they know you should, then your friend can call for a welfare check on you and get you help if you need it and be there to care for your pets.

Will you take the time to call me, or to check in with a friend each day? Will you take the time to reach out to someone in need of a friendly voice each day and make them feel like they matter and their pets matter? Will you set up a phone tree of people who can reach out to each other, starting with one call to each other? Please call me at 541-576-4265 if you want to check in with me, or call a friend today and ask them to be your daily life check-in. Do not be alone when someone is just a phone call away who will care.

Hayden, Garrett, Scott, and Abbey at a recent North Lake 4-H Lego Club meeting.

4-H LEGO Club Continues to Imagine and Build

Amid final touches on the LEGO Caribbean Clipper ship, and during an hour of free-building, conversation turned to the Lake County Fair, and what grand creation we could build as a team to display there in September.

"These kids have BIG ideas," says volunteer leader Mark Joseph Russell, "and if we can gather together enough resources, I have no doubt that these club members will again amaze fair-goers with something Lake County has never seen before."

North Lake 4-H LEGO Club meets each Wednesday from 4:00pm to 6:00pm at the Park and Rec office next to the library. If you can't make it until 4:15 or 4:30, no problem. If you can't make it every week, no problem. If you can't make it until after such-and-such sport season is over, no problem. Meetings include time for LEGO education, free building, and special projects.

Submission Deadline for Writing Prize Nears

The Waterston Desert Writing Prize (the Prize) is accepting submissions for the 2016 prize through April 1, 2016.

Now in its second year, the Prize annually honors literary nonfiction that illustrates artistic excellence, sensitivity to place, and desert literacy - with the desert as both subject and setting. Inspired by author and poet Ellen Waterston's love of the high desert of Central Oregon, a region that has been her muse for more than 30 years, the Prize recognizes the vital role deserts play worldwide in the ecosystem and human narrative. Emerging, mid-career and established nonfiction writers are invited to apply. Previous submitters who have not won an award are eligible to apply with a new project.

In 2016, the Prize will recognize one writer with a $1,500 cash award, a reading and reception at the High Desert Museum in Bend, Oregon, and a four-week residency at PLAYA at Summer Lake.
