EOHLA Receives $24K Grant

John V. Adams

The Eastern Oregon Healthy Living Alliance (EOHLA) is pleased to announce it has received a $24,286 grant from the OHSU Knight Cancer Institute Community Partnership Program (CPP). These funds will support a community project to identify colon cancer screening best practices in 5 counties in Eastern Oregon, including Lake, Harney, Sherman, Gilliam, and Wheeler.

Community Advisory Councils (CAC) from five counties in Eastern Oregon, including Lake, Harney, Sherman, Gilliam, and Wheeler, used Eastern Oregon Coordinated Care Organization (EOCCO) community project funding toward projects to improve colon cancer screening rates, and each county had varying results. The grant project will conduct focus groups in each of the 5 counties to assess each project's methods and materials and identify best practices for increasing colon cancer screening rates. The results will be shared with health organizations with the goal of improving the screening rates in Eastern Oregon.

The EOHLA identified chronic disease as one of the top regional priorities. Cancer is a top chronic disease, and it's one of the top causes of death annually within the region. 60% of all colon cancer related deaths can be prevented through annual screenings. The grant funded project helps to identify ways to increase screening rates within Eastern Oregon.

"The EOHLA is committed to providing strategies that improve community health throughout the region," stated Andrea Fletcher, EOHLA Board President. "Within the healthcare system there is a shift toward prevention practices to help keep people healthy. Screenings, such as colon cancer screenings, can prevent many serious illnesses before they occur. This project is important, because it helps us to better understand how we can improve colon cancer screening rates in Eastern Oregon."

The OHSU Knight Cancer Institute Community Partnership Program is designed to build sustainable collaborations with Oregon communities by providing grants and other resources to foster development of community-identified cancer prevention, early detection, treatment and survivorship projects. The OHSU Knight Cancer Institute has made a decade-long commitment to invest in this program to develop robust, sustainable programs that benefit the health of all Oregonians. Additional information about the program is available on the OHSU Knight Cancer Institute's website.

www.ohsu.edu/knight-cancer-institute

The Eastern Oregon Healthy Living Alliance was formed in 2014 to provide strategies within the Regional Community Health Improvement Plan and to support community health development in Eastern Oregon. The EOHLA consists of a governing board with member representation from each of the 12 counties that comprise the Eastern Oregon Coordinated Care Organization (EOCCO).

Make Better Health a Priority

OSU Lake Co. Extension Office

The OSU Lake County Extension Office and North Lake Public Health will begin the first session of the North Lake StrongPeople Program on May 10th and continue through July 28th. The StrongPeople program is a 12-week exercise program for middle-aged and older adults. The program will be held at the North Lake Health Center (Christmas Valley) on Tuesdays from 9:00 am to 10:30 am and Thursdays from 5:30 pm to 7:00 pm. The program is led by trained volunteers.

The StrongPeople Program is a national evidence-based community exercise and nutrition program. It is a strength-training exercise program to assist adults in maintaining muscle mass, strength and function as they age. Research has shown strength is a critical factor in living healthier, more active lives. This program of strength training not only improves bone density but reduces falls, improves arthritis symptoms and increases flexibility.

This program is appropriate for both sedentary and very active adults. However, some participants will be required to have physician's consent prior to participating in the program. If you are interested in the program, please don't delay in registering. Registrations are available at the OSU Lake County Extension Office and North Lake Public Health Clinic. Registrations are due to the clinic in Christmas Valley by Thursday, April 14th. There is a $10 fee for participating in this program, which is a reduced rate due to a grant from the Klamath/Lake Area Agencies on Aging.

For more information please contact the OSU Lake County Extension Office at (541) 947-6054 or the North Lake Public Health Clinic at (541) 576-2176.

StrongPeople Program Informational Meeting

Anyone interested in learning more about the program is invited to a meeting on Tuesday, April 12th at noon, held in the Conference Room at the Clinic in Christmas Valley. Registration packets are available now at the clinic and will be available at this meeting.

Registration for North Lake participants is due back to the Clinic no later than Thursday, April 14th.

Contact Shawn Lavalley for more information: 541-576-2110.

Back in Thyme Herbals: Guarana

Linda McCoslin

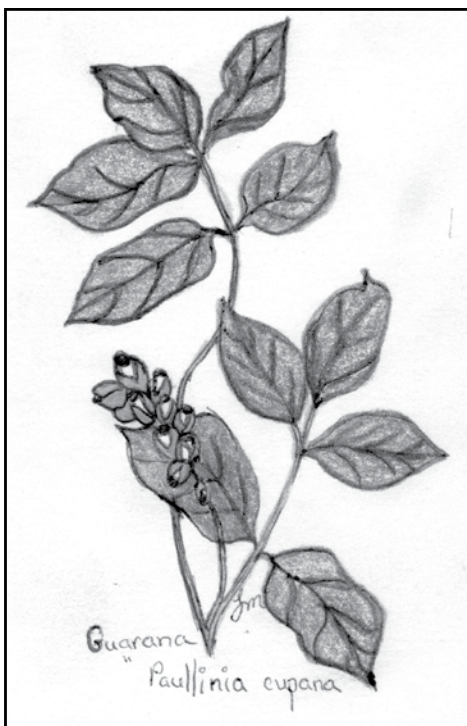

I recently had a request about some herbs a lady friend is taking so I am writing this article in response to them.

Guarana is one of the best-loved fruits in Brazil and considerable folklore has grown up around it. The most famous story explains the appearance of the edible fruit that, when ripe, has an uncanny resemblance to a human eye peering out of the split in the bright red capsule. There are different versions of the legend, but most relate to the story of Onhiamuacabe, a beautiful young woman with a great knowledge of rain forest plants who belonged to the Satare—Maue Indian tribe.

Onhiamuacabe had given birth to a boy fathered by a mysterious being. Before giving birth, she had planted a tree so that when her son was born he could eat its delicious fruits. By the time the child was old enough to speak, he was clamoring to eat the fruits that his mother had told him about. But the brothers of Onhiamuacabe, unhappy that the child had been born, had posted guards around the tree with orders to kill whoever came near it. Eventually the guards caught the boy in the act of eating the trees fruits and beheaded him. When Onhiamuacabe discovered her son had been killed, she took his right eye from his severed head and planted it while calling upon the spirit of the trees for help.

A few days later, the Guarana plant sprouted from where the eye had been planted and its fruits looked like the eyes of Onhiamuacabe's son. The name of the plant reflects this connection, as "Guara" means human and "na" means like.

Guarana is a tropical vine that climbs through the trees of the Amazon rain forest. Indigenous tribes in the central Amazon River Basin, have long, used the fruit of the vine for making a stimulating drink known as Guarana. The fruits are bright red capsules that split open when ripe, revealing a shiny black seed (sometimes two or three) that is partially embedded in a thin white pulp. From a distance, the split fruits look disturbingly like large, open eyes staring down from the leafy canopy.

They contain up to seven percent of a caffeine-like compound, known as guaranine. Unlike caffeine, it is not addictive and takes longer to be metabolized, giving it a gentler, more substantial stimulant effect. It has recently been promoted as a safe, natural stimulant by the Health Food industry in the form of capsules and candy, and as a component of tonic drinks based on spring water, fruit juices, and herbal extracts.

The traditional method of preparing and using guarana was to harvest and dry the seeds, grind them to a powder, add a little water to make paste, and form the paste into sticks that were dried and smoked. The drink was made by grating part of the guarana stick into hot water and drinking the infusion like tea. Guarana was taken mainly as a powerful stim-

Two "H" Words – Two Roads to Follow

Rev. Devon J. Noll

Our nation and the world are facing dangers caused by hate, fear, and ignorance. How our nation votes in November will give us and the rest of the world one of two results: hate or hope. I am not talking about the kind of Hope that Obama talked about, but the Hate that has become part of the national rhetoric is very much what we see being played out around the globe. And, sadly, as a community we are at a crossroads, where we must choose between hope or hate as a way forward, just like the nation and the world.

Last week I asked for help for one of our citizens from people who might or might not know him. I felt my faith in this community restored when about 15 people volunteered to help out someone they considered a friend in less than 12 hours. I am still working out this project, but with help and faith, I am sure we can start to help not just this one man, but others who might need help and are afraid to ask because of the attitude of certain elements in this town. Far too many people in this community have been subjected to bullying, rumor mongering, and hate speech. The rest of us have learned to keep our heads down and our mouths shut while the bullies and hateful people in this community act out against those they consider "the others".

New efforts are underway to create an expansion of the Grain of Mustard Foundation to seek out people who need help and to put together people who can help. We are beginning the planting season early, and we are planting the mustard seeds of hope in this community from now on. Those of us involved are choosing to create hope and inclusion in this community, rather than hate and fear. We do not want people to come here and then leave because they find themselves on the receiving end of discrimination, hate speech, and bullying of them and their children. We do not want a reputation for our town of being filled with hate towards others. We do not accept and will not be forced to accept that hate is the biggest crop this community harvests.

So, as citizens of this community, I am inviting you to choose: Hope or Hate, Heaven or Hell. Because you see, hope leads to Heaven on Earth here in Christmas Valley, and hate leads to this becoming a decaying Hell on Earth for everyone except those who seem to have profited from the bullying, hate speech, and economic dominance. We can make this the kind of community where people have new starts, raise children, grow old gracefully, and lives filled with joy. That is the goal of the Grain of Mustard Foundation: Planting seeds of hope to create a community where we are all our neighbors. You have to choose – and your choice will determine the future of this community. Some of us have already chosen what we will do. Will you join us? Don't be one to condemn and bad mouth us to further your own lust for dominance of your community at the expense of the rest of us.

Hate or Hope? Two roads – two endings. Your choice.

FORT ROCK HOMESTEAD MUSEUM

Pits and grooves can form by periodic sand blasting over hundreds or thousands of years, as here at Sand Rock in the Lost Forest. The rocks of Fort Rock cliffs are deeply eroded also.

Wood weathers much more quickly than stone, especially if left unprotected by paint or varnish. Maintenance and repair is an on-going concern for wood exposed to rain, snow, and blowing sand.

High Desert Sand-Blasting

M.E. "Jack" Swisher
Fort Rock Homestead Museum

Windblown sand is abrasive, even eroding and polishing solid rock. Imagine what happens to wood house siding and even window glass. Most homesteaders had no means to water a big lawn around the house, so everything they built was sand-blasted: house, chicken coop, barn.

Today's homes can be built of concrete, or sheathed in Hardie-Plank or metal siding. A patch of lawn can be kept watered. This cuts down on the wind erosion of housing. The eruption of Mt. Mazama 7,640 years ago continues to shape the landscape at Fort Rock and the people's lives who call the Great Sandy Desert home.

Candidate Forum to be Held Later this Month

As the Lake County elections next month draw nearer, political ads, bumper stickers, and yard signs seem to be popping up everywhere. These visual advertisements are a great way for candidates to get their name "out there" and perhaps highlight a few key points about themselves. But how can we really know a candidate?

At 6:00 pm on April 26th, North Lake area residents will get their chance to meet the candidates in person. A Candidate Forum will be held at North Lake School. All residents are welcome and encouraged to attend.

Desert Whispers has been notified that all eight candidates that will be on the ballot have committed to attend. Make plans now to attend this public event.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Road Naming approved by the Lake County Board of Commissioners:

McKinney Road

ROAD LOCATION: Township 27 South, Range 16 East of the Willamette Meridian, between Sections 15-16 and 21-22 [1 mile west of Oil Dri Road and running south from CV Highway for 1.75 miles]

Since the Board of Commissioners approved the proposed Road Naming, all current addresses have to be changed that are directly accessed off of the road named. All proposed dwellings located (or which would be located) off of said road will need to apply for a new address under the approved road name.

If you have a dwelling that is accessed off of what is now McKinney Road, but do not have an address assigned please contact the planning department to apply for an address. Bare land will not be addressed until building permits have been applied for.

Please don't hesitate to call if you have any questions, 541-947-6036.

PLAYING WITHOUT PAYING IS A CRIME!

Michael Martin Murphey to Play Benefit Dance in Lakeview

submitted article and photos

Lake County, Oregon is thrilled to welcome cowboy and western music legend Michael Martin Murphey and his Rio Grande Band to play a benefit dinner and dance for Adel resident Andy Rieber, on April 8th at the Lakeview Elks Lodge. Rieber has been fighting with an increasingly debilitating case of Lyme disease, and the benefit will help support her ongoing treatment and recovery. He will also be playing two additional benefits for Rieber, in Pendleton at the Slickfork Saloon on April 9th, and in Bend at the Tower Theater on April 10th.

A multiple Grammy nominee and Western Music Hall of Fame singer-songwriter, Murphey has captivated fans for years with his ability to render the iconic images and stories of the American West in his distinctive musical style. Best known for his hugely successful revival of traditional cowboy songs and for country-crossover mega-hits like Wildfire, Carolina in the Pines, and What's Forever For, Murphey's pioneering approach to western music defies easy classification. But while Murphey's music bucks obvious stereotypes, his genre-busting songs deliver something infinitely more satisfying—soulful, evocative, foot-stompingly good music steeped in the history and traditions of the West. If you're longing for flat-out authentic western music, look no further. Michael Martin Murphey is the gold standard.

Murphey's Oregon benefit tour comes just days before the release of his much-anticipated latest album—"High Stakes: Cowboy Songs VII"—a tribute to the beauties and hardships of the lives of working cattle ranchers. As a rare treat, "Murph" will give concert-goers a pre-release sampling of his new songs in the up-close-and-personal setting of the Lakeview Elks Lodge, right in the heart of Oregon's ranching country. The concert will be preceded by a steak dinner and the auction of an autographed Michael Martin Murphey guitar.

Rieber is well known in Lake County, and has worked for years as a journalist and consultant, telling the story of ranchers to the wider public and helping to protect the ability of ranchers to graze on public lands. The benefit is being produced by Murphey's non-profit foundation Murphey Western Institute—"A center for the education, preservation, and perpetuation of the arts, culture, history and legacy of the American West."

ABOVE: Adel resident Andy Rieber has been battling Lyme Disease for 10 years.
LEFT: Singer-songwriter Michael Martin Murphey will perform at three benefit events in Eastern Oregon to help support Andy Rieber's ongoing treatment and recovery.

Don't miss this amazing chance to see a western music legend right in Lakeview and support a great cause!

541-417-1255Spring Bazaar – A New Tradition

Editor, Mark Joseph Russell

When I was young, quite young, I first heard or read the word “Bazaar” and thinking it was another form of “Bizarre” imagined something out of Ripley’s Believe-It or Not. Again, based on the sound of the word, I also contemplated a possible connection to old-school Russian leadership. When I eventually figured out the true meaning of the word, I was delighted. As a youngster I loved to explore flea markets, thrift shops, garage sales and bazaars. There were treasures to be found there. Even now, as an adult, I still find great joy in seeking such treasures.

Twenty-plus years ago, Christmas Valley resident Fran Baxter helped to organize the first Christmas Valley Christmas Bazaar. It has since become an annual festive event that locals and visitor alike look forward to. It is one of Christmas Valley’s traditions.

And, it is really no great wonder as to why a Christmas Bazaar would be such a BIG deal in this town. A bazaar of the same or even greater magnitude at any other time of year would seem secondary. After all, this is CHRISTMAS Valley.

However, just a few years back, Fran and some others decided to try an additional bazaar in the spring-time. While not (yet) as steeped in tradition as the Christmas Bazaar, the vendors in the Spring are just as varied and present a wide range of crafted items, collectables, books, food, toys and more. In past years, I have shopped for and found wonderful birthday and Mother’s Day gifts at this Spring Bazaar. I understand there will even be LEGO sets, individual pieces and minifigures for sale this year.

Perhaps if this little spot on the map were called Springville, Spring Town, or Spring Hills rather than Christmas Valley, the SPRING BAZAAR would be first in people’s minds. Names and seasons aside, the bazaar later this month promises to be no less spectacular than the one’s we enjoy each December.

So, on Friday and Saturday, April 29th and 30th, I invite you to join me in attending the new tradition that is the Christmas Valley SPRING BAZAAR. You might find a treasure bordering on the bizarre, or even an item somehow connected to a Czar.

On May 17, the voters of Lake County will elect a District Attorney to serve this great community. There is a growing consensus among residents that new leadership is needed in this office. I believe my values, experience and energy make me the person for the job.

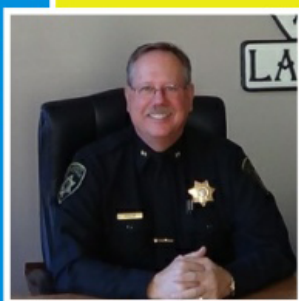

As a prosecutor, I have worked as a public servant for the past 14 years. I promise I will work tirelessly to make Lake County a safer and better place for the people who live here. I truly believe that together, we can take a stand and make a difference.

ELECT SHARON

"It's time for the District Attorney's office to once again put the interests of the citizens of Lake County in the forefront. We need a District Attorney that has a proven record of successful prosecutions, takes issues involving child abuse, sexual abuse and domestic violence seriously, and who will vigorously pursue prosecution rather than the shady back door deals and continuation down the same path.

I urge you to vote for Sharon Forster for District Attorney."

Knowing Sheriff Taylor's remarkable reputation as a career law enforcement officer and as Sheriff of Lake County, I know the citizens of Lake County can be assured that this professional relationship will immediately restore the harmony that is necessary for the two community justice agencies to effectively address community justice health.

In addition to the great endorsement of Sheriff Taylor, I am also honored that the local Oregon State Police Union Association and the Lakeview Town Police Union unanimously endorse me for Lake County District Attorney, making me the only candidate endorsed by members of all three local law enforcement agencies. ulant and for chronic diarrhea. Ethnobotanical studies revealed it was also used as a pain reliever and blood tonic, and for hypertension, fever, and headaches. It was recommended for protecting against malaria and amoebic dysentery, and as an aphrodisiac.

In the early 1900's guarana soda had become Brazil's national drink as extracts were added to carbonated drinks. It is presently taken as a daily tonic to combat fatigue and premature aging, and as a blood purifier. Other uses are for flatulence, dyspepsia, diarrhea, fever, headaches, and migraine, neuralgia, arteriosclerosis, and as an appetite suppressant. In the U.S. it is marketed for its ability to increase mental alertness, fight fatigue, increase stamina and endurance, relieve headaches, tone and strengthen the heart, prevent blood clots, and to enhance sexual performance.

It's compounds consist of: purine alkaloids, theophylline, theobromine, tannins, cyanolipides, saponins, starch, and proteins.

No Health hazards or side effects with proper administration of designated therapeutic dosages. Caution is advised for patients with sensitive cardiovascular systems, renal diseases, hyperthyroidism, increased tendency to spasms, and certain psychic disorders such as panic anxiety.

Loren Irving's: Finding Fremont...

Lake County Library

Lake County Library District is excited to host Loren Irving for "Finding Fremont in Oregon" in Lakeview, Paisley, and Christmas Valley. All are welcome to join on Wednesday, April 6th, 2016 at 7:00 pm in the Meeting Room of the Main Library – Lakeview; Thursday, April 7th, 2016 at 1:00 pm in the Paisley School Auditorium; or Thursday, April 7th, 2016 at 7:00 pm at the Christmas Valley Community Hall. Programs are free and open to the public.

Loren Irving is a confirmed history buff and landscape photographer. He spent almost three years researching and documenting the approximate locations of 32 of the campsites in Oregon and 34 in Nevada of John C. Fremont's second expedition in 1843-44, taking beautiful photographs of the sites as they are today. This 'obsession' turned into an travelling exhibit originally displayed at the Nevada State Museum, recently displayed at the Deschutes County Historical Society Museum, and presently at the Columbia Gorge Discovery Center and Museum in the Dalles. This research also resulted in a 30 minute documentary film, "Finding Fremont in Oregon, 1843."

Irving will talk about Fremont's early life and set the scene as to why Congress wanted to have the Oregon Trail surveyed at that time before showing photographs of the route and a good number of the camp locations in Oregon and Nevada.

Harney-Lake Win Reading Challenge

Lake County Library

The Million Page Challenge ended March 14 with the Team Harney & Lake Counties declared the bragging rights winners, having read 866,986 pages! Pendleton Public Library readers came in second with 503,871 pages. Hood River County Library readers turned in 440,246 pages, bringing the total pages read to 1,811,103 pages.

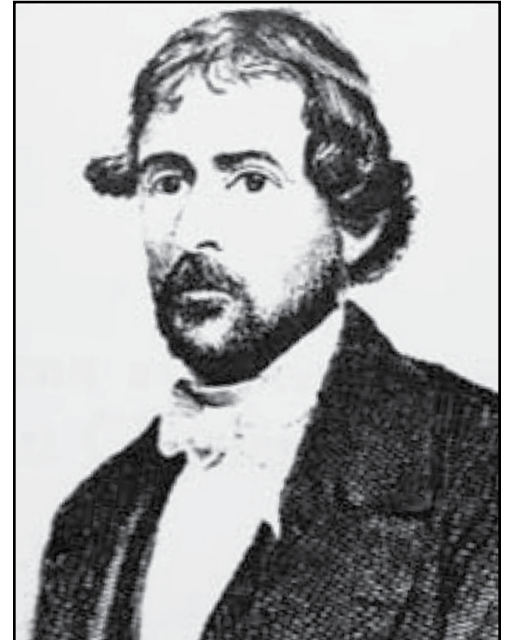

Congratulations are in order for Lake County's top ten readers: Edward Agri-sea with 19,822 pages; Miyuki McMullen with 13,753 pages; David Lev with 10,755 pages; Carol Chapman with 8,117 pages; Julie Crowl with 7,977 pages; Candace Wagner with 7,763 pages; Patty Barnhart with 7,685 pages; Larry Walker with 7,613 pages; Ronda Easton with 6,885 pages; and Rex Hopper with 6,673 pages. All top 10 winners will receive a "Be Enchanted – READ!" canvas tote bag to cart around the many books they read.

Historical portrait of explorer John C. Fremont

He will then be available for questions from the audience.

For more information about this free program, please contact Library Director Amy Hutchinson at 541-947-6019 or amyh@lakecountylibrary.org.

At two and a half years old, Brooklyn Prock was the youngest Lake County reader in the Challenge. Her mother, Katelin, read 544 pages to her during the challenge. "We love how the Million Page Challenge engages readers of all ages in a friendly competition," said Amy Hutchinson, Lake County Libraries Director.

The contest began on February first and ended March 14. Only pages read from library-owned materials counted. Questions about the contest may be directed to Amy Hutchinson, Lake County Library Director, at 541-947-6019.
