Spring Bazaar - A New Tradition

Editor, Mark Joseph Russell

Twenty-plus years ago, Christmas Valley residents organized the first Christmas Valley Christmas Bazaar. It has since become an annual festive event that locals and visitor alike look forward to. It is one of Christmas Valley's traditions.

And, it is really no great wonder as to why a Christmas Bazaar would be such a BIG deal in this town. A bazaar of the same or even greater magnitude at any other time of year would seem secondary. After all, this is CHRISTMAS Valley.

However, just a few years back, Fran and some others decided to try an additional bazaar in the spring-time. While not (yet) as steeped in tradition as the Christmas Bazaar, the vendors in the Spring are just as varied and present a wide range of crafted items, collectables, books, food, toys and more. In past years, I have found wonderful birthday and Mother's Day gifts at this Spring Bazaar. I understand there will even be LEGO sets, individual pieces and minifigures for sale this year.

Perhaps if this little spot on the map were called Springville, Spring Town, or Spring Hills rather than Christmas Valley, the SPRING BAZAAR would be first in people's minds. Names and seasons aside, the bazaar later this month promises to be no less spectacular than the one's we enjoy each December.

A Letter of Thanks to the Community

I have lived in a lot of different communities over the years. But of all of them I am most thankful for this one. A few years ago we moved here, onto some property, sight unseen. People in Christmas Valley welcomed us and were friendly and helpful.

A couple years ago I suffered a major heart attack that left me dead on the floor of my hospital room. The doctors brought me back but had little hope for my survival. They gave my wife no encouragement and told her to be prepared for the worst. There was a small amount of brain damage from lack of oxygen. There are still some memories that are lost to me, some things have returned, and still others that I know should be there, but the connections are just not there anymore. So if you see me and know me, and I call you by the wrong name, you know why.

The doctors told my wife that off-grid living and wood smoke were forbidden. So while I was in the hospital my wife scrambled. With the help of so many, many good and wonderful people, Lori found us housing as others took care of our sons.

Others in the area gave beds, furniture, food and sundries. When I got out of the hospital I weighed 115 lbs. and had to use a wheelchair and/or a walker. Today, though I still have breathing issues and tire more easily than ever before, thanks to the good people of Christmas Valley and the prayers of many who I will never meet in this life, I am healthy as I can be.

All this is really to say, "Thank You!"

to all of you who helped and to those who prayed.

Special mention to Kathi, everyone at Chevron, Maggi, Darrell & Ileen. If I have failed to list you here just remember: You are forever in the hearts and minds of my wife Lori, and my sons- Conner, Ryan and Hunter. Thank you Christmas Valley.

Also, mention needs to be made of Carry & Carmen, we'd have been lost without you two.

— Clyde A. Adair

The Entity

There is an ENTITY in Christmas Valley that doesn't want things to happen. Things that might gain special recognition, or things that might bring attention to the area. Things that might grow Christmas Valley and surrounding community positively. An ENTITY that wants to shut things down. An ENTITY that threatens cultural growth. Which cultural growth?

Christmas Valley Lodge was a beckoning feature in Christmas Valley when I began to have dealings here in the mid 1980's. Good food & good music & good times. I rest my case. Trimmed occasionally, probably for fire reasons, what is it now? Tax investment? Just exactly how does that work?

Short, but sweet. Lets investigate the ENTITY in future issues.

NBIC Welcomes New Director Advocate in CV

My name is Carri Maganzini, I am excited to introduce myself as the new director advocate for the New Beginnings Intervention Center (NBIC) located in the Anex building downtown Christmas Valley. I have been a member of the community for 4yrs now and I am looking forward to a productive, positive relationship with our community.

NBIC is a non-profit organization dedicated to serving the northern region of Lake County. The Center provides education, violence prevention services and crisis intervention.

The purpose of NBIC is to provide survivors of domestic violence, sexual violence, and elder abuse with the information and options that they can apply to their own personal situation and create an environment where violence and abuse are not tolerated in the communities we serve.

The NBIC office will be open throughout the week as well as have a 24hr Crisis Hotline open to all of the community. If anyone is interested in volunteering for the Crisis Hotline please feel free to contact me by coming in or calling the office.

NORTH LAKE HEALTH DISTRICT UPDATE

As the residents of North Lake County know, over a year ago, the doctor overseeing the primary care at North Lake County Health District Medical Facility decided to retire and gave us a notice that he would like to terminate his agreement with our Clinic Board. This gave our Board some challenges but a great opportunity to try and make the clinic everything it could be. It also gave the Board a chance, with open meetings, to explain to residents of North Lake County how we would go about accomplishing this task of finding a new provider.

In August of 2015 the Board was extremely pleased to sign an agreement with Charla DeHate, CEO of La Pine Community Health Clinic, to provide services from for primary care at our facility.

Although most of the support staff is local, up until the 8th of April all primary care providers have travelled from outside our area to provide these primary care services. We are pleased to have two permanent providers at the health center now: Dennis Bruneau, PA-C and Kathy Thompson, PA-C.

Although our Board has known for months that Kathy was coming, today the 12th of April was our first time to actually meet her and her husband Manley. Once again the North Lake Health District Board is extremely pleased that another major challenge has been met. A soon-to-be local resident providing primary care services at our local clinic.

In addition to primary care, North Lake Health District contracts with other practitioners who also provide services at the medical center.

Please take a look at our new signs, watch for new ads and stop by to check us out.

Carl, Alice, Earl, Kathie, Jeff,
and Sandie

Back in Thyme Herbals: House Leek

Linda McCoslin

Sempervivum comes from Latin semper meaning "Always", and vivus meaning "Alive," referring to the drought-tolerant nature of these plants. This genus of about 40 evergreen species of small, fleshy, rosette-forming perennials occurs in Europe, northern Africa, and western Asia.

House leeks have strange but characteristic growth, the finer distinctions between species are sometimes barely discernible. The fleshy leaves huddle together in close rosettes, each one nudges room from its neighbor. The whole colony forms a conglomerate growth that encrusts roofs and walls and will survive in the pitiless glare of the sun on mountain slopes. Cool to the touch, each wedge shaped leaf is a living reservoir enabling the plant to survive and flourish under adverse conditions.

The old Dutch name was "Donderbloom" meaning Thunderflower, counterpart of an English country name, "Thunderplant," reminiscent of a European belief in the Dark Ages that to have it growing on the roof would protect against lightning strikes, witch craft, thunder and fire. Charlemagne (768-814 AD) King of the Franks and the first Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire, in his "ordinances" demanded by mandate, all farmers should plant house leeks upon their roofs. The Saxons brought it to Britain, with the name "homewort." Throughout the middle ages it was esteemed as a symbol of vivacity and industry, with its ability to flourish and flower despite adversity. It is carefully cultivated in France under the title of "fouet," thought of as efficacious for medicinal purposes. This is also the Scottish name for the plant and is known as "fow" which means to cleanse. Its country names are numerous in Britain: "hockerie-topner," "house-green," "hus-lock," "imbroke," "jobarb," "jubarb," "Jupiter's Beard," "sungen," "supheld," and as recently as 1952, an authoritative flora handbook proclaimed the name "welcome home husband however drunk you be." Legend says it is a gift from Jupiter for protection.

House leek is one of the oldest first-aid herbs, with similar but reduced healing properties to aloe vera. Its advantage is that it will survive several degrees of winter frost. It is regarded today as one of the safest remedies for inflammation and swelling of almost any part of the body, and a poultice of the bruised leaves is recommended. Culpeper stated that the "leaves bruised and laid upon the crown or seam of the head stayeth bleeding at the nose very quickly." Externally, the juice may be safely used as an antiseptic on grazes, cuts, or burns. The fresh juice extracted from a fleshy leaf into the eye will relieve inflammation and dispel styes. Ointment is used on burns and scalds and the leaves can be pressed to exude much liquid. It can be applied to wasp stings, cuts, burns, ulcers, insect bites, itching, burning skin, and warts. To soften the skin around corns, bind on leaves for a few hours, soak foot in hot water, then attempt to remove the corn, repeat the procedure as necessary. Infuse as a tea for septic throats, bronchitis, and mouth ailments.

The leaves can be added to salads, put

We Bloom Where We Plant Ourselves

Terry Crawford

Just short of ten years ago I made the move from a small hobby farm east of Bend to a similar property in Christmas Valley. The difference, the Bend property carried a $2100 a month mortgage that was going to outlive me – the Christmas Valley property would be mortgage free.

Was it a difficult transition? Not really. Of course leaving the property where the kids grew up was hard, but then the actual home, a 1970's single wide had been dismantled and replaced by my husband's and my dream home. Sadly less than two years after the build he died suddenly. Hence, big 15-year mortgage payment and one income.

Back to the question of transitioning to small town, agrarian. I didn't find the move difficult, after all Bend is only an hour and a half away. The hard part was simply being a new member of a small community. It was a bit like I imagine being in a fishbowl—not much anonymity and a lot of curiosity. Once that reality settled in, going with the flow just happened.

Did I ruffle a few feathers along the way? Sure, but then I've always had a talent for doing that. It comes along with my get-er-done drive.

Am I glad I made the move? Absolutely. It has been and continues to be good for me and was extremely good for my granddaughter, Karrah. Now Karrah was initially quite resistant to the move to the middle of nowhere and she didn't have to make the move all at once. She was able, with the help of family and friends to spend school days in Bend for the remainder of 7th grade and all of 8th. She made the permanent move at the semester break of her freshman year and tried homeschooling – bad idea but we gave it a shot.

The next fall Karrah began her freshman year at North Lake School. She had four years of school, sports, friends and farming, and she will tell anyone that living here for her high school years gave her lifetime of great memories and a foundation that will serve her well regardless of where she lives.

Christmas Valley, indeed all of the communities of Lake County's northern end, offer a great lifestyle for long timers and newcomers alike. As the old saying goes, "You made your bed, now lie in it." Well, I've made my nest – my bed – here, and I love snuggling in and sleeping in it. And as my friend Debbie says, "We bloom where we plant ourselves."

DEQ to Host Public Meeting Regarding the Alkali Lake Chemical Waste Disposal Site

DEQ will hold a public meeting on Monday, May 2, 2016 to provide information and answer questions about the Alkali Lake Chemical Waste Disposal site. The meeting will be held at the Christmas Valley Community Center. It will begin at 6:30 pm.

DEQ has been holding meetings periodically to provide the public with an opportunity to meet with DEQ's technical staff and to learn about this site. DEQ currently inspects the site on an annual basis.

The Alkali Lake Chemical Waste Disposal site is just west of Alkali Lake in Lake County. The key feature of the site is a 10-acre chemical waste disposal area. Between 1969 and 1971, about 25,000 drums containing waste from the production of herbicides were transported to the Site. In 1976, the drums were crushed and buried in 12 trenches in the disposal area.

DEQ has been monitoring environmental conditions at the site since the 1970s. Primary contaminants are herbicides and phenolic compounds. Groundwater is highly contaminated near the disposal area. Detectable contamination extends about 2,000 feet from this disposal cell. A risk assessment conducted in 2005 concluded that acceptable risk levels are not exceeded provided current safeguards are maintained. This assessment takes into account reasonably likely exposure by people and animals to this contamination.

The disposal area is enclosed by a barbed-wire fence. In addition, a four-mile fence was installed in the 1990s to discourage entry within the vicinity of the disposal area and the area of the groundwater contaminant plume. DEQ continues groundwater monitoring, and to maintain fences and signs warning trespassers of the presence of hazardous substances.

For more information, please contact DEQ Project Manager Bob Schwarz, 541-298-7255 x230, or schwarz.bob@deq.state.or.us.

Candidate Forum to be Held Later this Month

As the Lake County elections next month draw nearer, political ads, bumper stickers, and yard signs seem to be popping up everywhere. These visual advertisements are a great way for candidates to get their name "out there" and perhaps highlight a few key points about themselves. But how can we really know a candidate?

At 6:00 pm on April 26th, North Lake area residents will get their chance to meet the candidates in person. A Candidate Forum will be held at North Lake School. All residents are welcome and encouraged to attend.

What do any of these have to do with “Bearing Packs”. Nothing. I just wanted to get your attention. This is Terry at “Barlow Solutions”. I have been in the RV industry for over 20 years. An important aspect of that is reminding people about preventive maintenance.

Let us visualize a normal use of your trailer. Could be your flat bed or horse trailer. It could be an RV being used for a vacation or hunting trip. Perhaps you have planned for months, taken time off from work, and have your schedule planned to the hour. The trailer is packed and ready to go. You will hit the road “dark and early” on Saturday morning. The kids are excited and you have every detail covered.

It is now hours into the trip and you hear and feel something different in the steering wheel. You stop and look. What the HAY!!!! One of the tires is gone or hanging weird. What happened? What is damaged here? Is it just the tire? The wheel? The hub? The backing plate? The bearings? Or is the axel itself damaged?

Are you broke down in front of “Super Duper Trailer World” who just happens to have a skilled mechanic with the time and materials on hand to get you back on the road in the next 5 hours? Or are you halfway to Burns? No matter what, your schedule is shot. Worse case, you might be looking at three (working) days to ship in the correct axel.

We have all seen trailers parked alongside the road and have wondered why in the world would someone choose to park there? Look carefully and you will see that one of their tires is off. Why? It is often because there is a major problem with bearings.

Trailer axles with their hub/drum and brakes and magnets are quite different from the axles on your car or pickup. NORMAL operating temperatures vary from outside air temp to 130 degrees. You can burn yourself badly by touching a hub with your bare hand to test. The same way you don’t grab an exhaust pipe to see if the engine is running right.

Dexter Axle (The Ford/GM of axles) recommends a bearing pack once a year or every 5000 miles. To properly inspect each component requires a complete disassembly and cleaning. It is impossible to tell if a bearing is bad until you clean it down to bare metal. While everything is open and clean now is the time to check brake wear and the magnets. Any grease that has entered the hub has probably rendered the brakes at that wheel, useless.

At Barlow Solutions (541-576-4280), a basic “bearing pack/inspection” on a two axel trailer is $180.00 plus new seals. ($4 to $9.00 per) Please call for an appointment.

FYI- In comparison to the breakdown described above, let us assume your old tire and wheel are undamaged. One new 3500 lb straight axel with brakes will run you about $430 delivered. (Heaver or drop axles will be more). Then add saddles, perhaps new U-bolts and labor. If you can limp the trailer back to my yard to minimize labor and avoid a “service call” the labor should be around $250.00. You are now around $700.00. Your pocketbook and your schedule have both taken an unpleasant, but avoidable, hit.

On May 17, the voters of Lake County will elect a District Attorney to serve this great community. There is a growing consensus among residents that new leadership is needed in this office. I believe my values, experience and energy make me the person for the job.

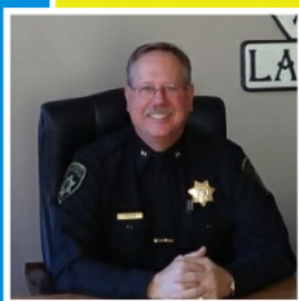

As a prosecutor, I have worked as a public servant for the past 14 years. I promise I will work tirelessly to make Lake County a safer and better place for the people who live here. I truly believe that together, we can take a stand and make a difference.

ELECT SHARON

"It's time for the District Attorney's office to once again put the interests of the citizens of Lake County in the forefront. We need a District Attorney that has a proven record of successful prosecutions, takes issues involving child abuse, sexual abuse and domestic violence seriously, and who will vigorously pursue prosecution rather than the shady back door deals and continuation down the same path.

I urge you to vote for Sharon Forster for District Attorney."

Knowing Sheriff Taylor's remarkable reputation as a career law enforcement officer and as Sheriff of Lake County, I know the citizens of Lake County can be assured that this professional relationship will immediately restore the harmony that is necessary for the two community justice agencies to effectively address community justice health.

In addition to the great endorsement of Sheriff Taylor, I am also honored that the local Oregon State Police Union Association and the Lakeview Town Police Union unanimously endorse me for Lake County District Attorney, making me the only candidate endorsed by members of all three local law enforcement agencies. Prescribed Burning Season Begins in South Central Oregon Area

The Fremont-Winema National Forest, Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Lakeview District and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Sheldon-Hart Mountain National Wildlife Complex are once again entering prescribed burning season.

The public may notice smoke on public lands in various areas during the next few months as part of the continued commitment to protect communities and natural resources from wildfires.

Visitors are asked to be aware of their surroundings and watch for prescribed burning operations to maintain personal safety. Areas where prescribed burning operations are taking place will be well signed and there will be increased fire personnel in the area. If visitors are uncertain, they are encouraged to contact the Lakeview Interagency Fire Center at 541-947-6315 before their visit to see where prescribed burns are planned for the day.

As temperatures warm and snow levels begin to recede but humidity levels remain high, there is an opportunity to bring fire into the forest and desert in a controlled setting. Prescribed fires are used to clear the ground floor of small fuels and brush without burning or killing large trees.

The federal agencies work in partnership with the National Park Service, Oregon Department of Forestry and adjacent landowners to improve wildland and forest health.

Prescribed burns are conducted when there is a window of opportunity and specific conditions and criteria are met before, and will be sustained, during and after the burn. These include temperature, wind conditions, relative humidity and fuel moisture levels. The agencies also take air quality into consideration.

"Prescribed burning is an important tool for the land management agencies to use for hazardous fuels reduction and forest health improvement, including wildlife habitat," said Interagency Fire Staff Officer Barry Shullanberger. "The fires are intended to be slow, low-intensity creeping fires on the landscape. Although there are only a few opportunities for prescribed burns, they produce less smoke and there aren't the resource impacts typically created by large wildfires."

For more information, please call 541-947-6315.

Photographing Your World Workshops

Amy Hutchinson

Many people today have a phone in their pocket, and we take and share pictures like never before. Have you ever wanted to improve your photographs? This spring you can get top notch instruction from University of Oregon Professor of Art Terri Warpinski through Lake County Library District's Photographing Your World digital landscape photography workshops.

This one-day workshop, from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, will cover ideas and techniques to guide participants of a wide variety of ages on how to make photographs of the area they live, work, and play in. Participants will look at and talk about photographs that not only describe how places look today, but also how they can tell stories, reveal history, and even communicate how the photographer feels about the subjects they shoot.

Participants will learn basic concepts for framing and composing through the camera's viewfinder to make their photographs as strong as possible as well as essential camera techniques. The workshop includes time for making and sharing photographs with the group.

Workshops will be held on three days in different Lake County locations: Paisley on Saturday, April 23, 2016; Christmas Valley on Saturday, May 21, 2016; and Lakeview on Saturday, June 11, 2016. The workshop is open to participants age 9 to 99 with a digital camera or smart phone camera. Those ages 9-13 will need an accompanying adult.

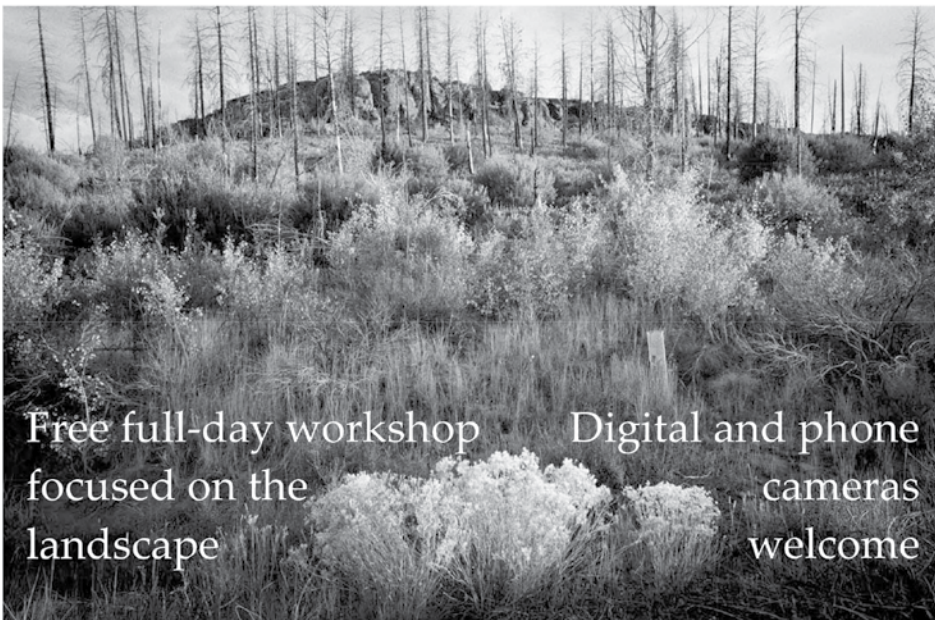

Pre-registration is required for this free workshop. You can register by calling the library location of your choice: Paisley 541-943-3911; Christmas Valley 541-576-2336; Lakeview 541-947-6019. Registration is limited to 36 participants in each location. Preference for seats will be given to Lake County residents.

This program is provided in partnership with Lake County Resources Initiative, Playa, and the Libraries of Eastern Oregon (LEO) through an ArtPlace America grant. LEO is a nonprofit organization that serves libraries in its 15-county service area with programs, online services, and advocacy. Funding from the ArtPlace America grant aims to provide arts-based programming at libraries through various hands-on workshops, presentations, and art exhibits for patrons of all ages.

For more information about this free program, please contact Library Director Amy Hutchinson at 541-947-6019 or amyh@lakecountylibrary.org.
