Back in Thyme Herbals: The Black Hills

Linda McCoslin

A large puffball seen in the Black Hills near Christmas Valley.

drought and now grows throughout much of the Northern Great Basin and into Canada, frequently invading hay fields. We saw several of the Buckwheats. As we were strolling along, looking at all the beautiful fauna and flora, there were these tiny, bright red flowers called Cusicks Monkey Flower (mimulus Cusickii) or Dwarf Purple Monkey Flower (mimulus - nanus). They were very delicate and pretty, caught your eye from a distance,

The 16th of July was a beautiful, warm –not hot– morning when eight of us met at Flowerree Park for our Herb Walk of the month. We loaded up my van with the majority of the walkers and headed for The Black Hills just south of Christmas Valley. The road was a little rough as there were a few wash outs that didn't use to be so bad, but we managed to get fairly close to the top anyway. We parked just before the rail that keeps the vehicles from driving on the special buckwheat, and that's where we started our walk.

I took a few extra walking sticks, and passed them out to everyone, just in case. One of the first really pretty sights of the walk was a very large, white Puffball, that was the size of a soccer ball. Not far from that one was another slightly smaller one. They are quite fascinating to look at. We then began finding different plants that we already knew, since we had seen them on previous Herb Walks. Death Cammas and Locoweed were prominent.

Much to our delight, Becky Womack joined us for this walk and she had the foresight to bring a gallon-sized ziplock bag for the collection of species to identify. Thank you so much Becky! Although I must say, you gave me quite a challenge with all the different plants you collected. Some of them were easy to identify, yet others I have not yet discovered what they are, as they are not in some of my books.

Our walk was quite leisurely and everyone took different routes up the trail, so that we all saw different plants to figure out. We encountered Dagger-Pod (Phoenicaulis cheiranthoides), and some tumble mustard. We saw Russian Knapweed (Centaurea repens), which is a candidate for the most noxious knapweed. It tolerates and were scattered in a small area where the Buckwheat grows. There were also delicate, tall blueish-purple flowers called Narrow-leafed Phacelia (Linearis), a few bushes of Squaw current, and several flowers that resemble dandelions named Microseris Troximoids. We also found Grey Groundsel (Senecio Canus), some Fiddleneck (Amsinckia), a Long-leafed Phlox (Plox longifolia). We had a discussion about one of the flowers we found because it not only resembles a Parrys Daisy (townsendia parryi), but also a Lava Aster (scopolorum).

There were so many different things to investigate; it was wonderful. There was Large-Fruited Biscuitroot (Lomatium Macrocarpum) – the books say this is a desert parsley. There was Clustered Broomrape (Orobanch fasciculata) which is a parasitic plant that relies on other plants such as sagebrush for its liq-

Outhouse Etiquette

Recent vandalism and "trashing" of the Porta-Potty units near the Christmas Valley Library had forced them to be padlocked, unavailable for public use. Even though there is a public trash can less than 100 feet away, the units were being filled with household garbage, diapers, bottles and cans, and more. This made the units next to impossible to clean out and service. Though the units are now open again for public use, the servicing company will not tolerate this "trashing" and will not service the units if this happens again.

So, it's up to those that use the units to keep them trash free. Because, if they get trashed again, they will be locked and removed. If that happens, users of the play area and grounds around the library may have to take a hike to Christmas Valley Market to relieve themselves.

The Park and Rec office has no public restroom.

uid to stay alive. One of the tall, delicate bushes we found resembles Marsh-Elder (Iva Xanthifolia) except it is smaller in size which could have to do with where it is growing and how much moisture it gets. It is of the Sunflower family. When we finally made it to the top where the parking lot is and the rock cliffs to climb, we found an amazing patch of the most beautiful Mariposa Lilys (Calochortus Macrocarpus). They are quite stunning to look at – lavender colored on a long single stem with no visible leaves to speak of.

Some of the crew climbed the rocks and took pictures from above. Some of us picked up the trash that other people left. It's too bad more people don't care about the environment we live in. We then slowly made our way back down to the vehicles and came home. It was a wonderful day and everyone really enjoyed themselves and learned a few new things.

We have decided amongst us that we have done the dry area walks and would like to go where there is some water and it's a little cooler. So, on our next months walk we are going to go to Diversion Reservoir, above Silver Lake. We are going to bring pic-nic lunches since there was a table there and maybe play in the water and relax a little, as we investigate what there may be there. ALL ARE INVITED TO GO WITH US. I will bring my van again for anyone who doesn't want to drive. Saturday, August 20th meet at Flowerree Park by 9 a.m. I hope to see more of you there.

Thank you all for your participation, it is a pleasure to be going on these treks. God be with you!

Opinion: Concerning Presidential Candidate Trump - "You're Missing The Boat"

submitted by Becky Tocol

Many Republicans and Christians have been thinking that we really don't have a candidate we can stand behind. However, we may all be looking at things from the wrong perspective, that being a biblical one. I suggest that we all give a very serious read to the following, which was passed along to me by a True Patriot. If you choose not to at least read this, I believe you will be doing both yourself and our country a disservice.

I am reminded of David in the Bible: He was not a likely choice and Samuel had serious reservations about him when God selected him to be King (I Sam. 16). The rest is history, as they say.

A Message For Christians About Donald Trump

by Wayne Allyn Root 6/24/2016

I am a Jew turned evangelical Christian. I am also supporter of Donald Trump. I have a message for Christians who don't like Donald Trump: "YOU'RE MISSING THE BOAT." Christians have Trump all wrong. God sends messages in many forms. You're just not listening. God is talking, but you're eyes and ears are closed.

Here's a famous joke about God and how he talks to us:

A deeply faithful Christian man is stuck on roof of home with massive flooding up to 2nd floor. Rowboat comes. He says "No, I'm waiting for God. I've prayed and I know he's coming." 2nd rowboat. "No, I'm waiting for God." 3rd rowboat. "No, I'm waiting for God." Water rises. The man drowns. Now he's meeting God in heaven. The religious man says "Where were you God? I prayed. I was faithful. I asked you to save me. Why would you abandon me?"

God says, "Hey dummy, I sent you 3 rowboats. Are you blind?"

Did you ever consider Trump is our row-boat? Maybe God is trying to tell us something important—that now is not the time for a "nice Christian guy" or a "gentleman" or a typical Republican powder puff. Maybe now is the time for a natural born killer, a ruthless fighter, a warrior. Because right about now we need a miracle, or America is finished. Maybe the rules of gentleman don't apply here. Maybe a gentleman and "all-around nice Christian" would lead us to slaughter.

Or do you want another Mitt Romney, Bob Dole, John McCain, Gerald Ford or Paul Ryan? Did any of them win? Did they lead the GOP to "the promised land?" Did they change the direction of America? No, because if you don't win, you have no say.

Maybe God is knocking on your door so loud, but you're not listening. Maybe God understands we need a "war leader" at this moment in time. Maybe God understands if we don't win this election, America is dead. It's over. The greatest nation in world history will be gone. Finished. Kaput. Adios. And with one last breath, maybe what we need to save us at the last second, is someone different. Someone you haven't ever experienced before - because you weren't raised in rough and tumble New York where nothing good gets accomplished unless you're combative, aggressive, outrageous, on offense at all times, and maybe just a tad arrogant too. Someone with a personality you've never seen on stage at your church.

Maybe, just maybe, being a nice gentlemanly Christian would not beat Hillary, and her billion dollars, and her best friends in the media who will unleash the dogs of hell upon the GOP nominee. I guess you think God is only nice and gentlemanly. Really? Then you've missed the whole point of the Bible. When necessary God is a pretty tough guy. When necessary, God strikes with pain, death and destruction. When necessary, God inflicts vengeance.

Maybe you think God couldn't possibly be associated with someone like Trump. Trump is too vicious, rude and crude. When we won WWII, was God "nice?" Were we gentlemanly when defeating Hitler? Were we gentlemanly when firebombing Germany? Were we gentlemanly when dropping atomic bombs on Japan? Is God ever "nice" on the battlefield? Or does he send us vicious [fighters] like General George S. Patton, so the good guys can defeat evil? It's pretty clear to me God sends unique people to be "war leaders." That's a different role than a pastor or church leader. God understands that. Maybe God purposely sent Trump instead of the nice Republican powder puffs ... because he wants us to win. And losing again would mean the end of America. And God can't allow that.

I was reading the Bible this morning and I found the perfect verse that explains the success of Donald Trump:

Even the youths shall faint and be weary, And the young men shall utterly fall, But those who wait on the Lord Shall renew their strength; They shall mount up with wings like eagles, They shall run and not be weary, They shall walk and not faint." (Isiah 40:30-31)

It's almost like God created this verse for Donald Trump and this moment in history. Trump is our energy. More energy than any candidate EVER. He took on the 16 best candidates in GOP history...all younger than him...all with better political credentials...and destroyed them with his energy. You mean that kind of energy in a 70-year old isn't inspired by God?

Trump renews our strength. Or does the all-time record turnout and all-time record votes for a GOP presidential primary candidate not define "strength?"

With Trump we mount up with wings like eagles. With Trump as our leader there is nothing we can't do. Any man that can build skyscrapers in Manhattan and vanquish 16 presidential opponents, while spending almost nothing...can lead us to the heights of eagles.

With Trump we run, we are not weary. Just when we get tired of the fight against Obama, Hillary, big government, big business, big media, big unions...just when it all seems impossible to overcome the powerful forces of evil... along comes Trump to re-energize us. Trump inspires us. Trump gives us hope. Trump gives us confidence in victory. Trump gives us just a touch of arrogance. Maybe God understands that's exactly what we need right at this late stage to save America.

God is about miracles. We don't need a "nice guy" or a "gentleman" right now. It's the 4th quarter and we're losing 14-0. We need a miracle. So let me repeat my message to Christians: "YOU'RE MISSING THE BOAT." I believe Trump is our miracle. I believe Trump is our rowboat. Except he's more like a battleship! No one is saying Trump is perfect. No one is saying Trump is a perfect conservative. But he is a patriot. He is a warrior. He is a capitalist. He is the right man, at the right time. Yes, he's a bit rude and crude and offensive. But that may make him the perfect warrior to save America, American exceptionalism, capitalism and Judeo-Christian values. The choice should be easy for Christians. It's Trump...or it's the end of the America.

Mr. Root's commentary is reprinted with his permission. Wayne Allyn Root is a nationally known politician, political commentator and best-selling political author. He is known as "the Capitalist Evangelist." Wayne's latest book will be released on August 23rd. It is entitled "ANGRY WHITE MALE."

Konaway Nation to host Pow Wow in August

Friday and Saturday, August 19th and 20th the Konaway Nation will host a Pow Wow at the Christmas Valley Community Hall and the Rodeo Grounds parking area directly behind it. The event is free and all are welcome. There will also be a potlatch (potluck). Bring your favorite dish or not and join the fellowship. The purpose of the gathering is to explore the cultures of the many Indian tribes of the Northwest and to meet and enjoy your neighbors whether of Indian descent or not.

Vendors will be welcome. Please contact Chief Suzan at 541-576-3079 or 541-930-0260 for vendor reservations and for general information. For over night accommodations it is suggested you call for motel or RV reservations early.
