HERE'S WHAT'S HAPPENING AT CHRISTMAS VALLEY PARK AND RECREATION

Our Christmas Valley Park and Recreation Board has put together a great team of employees and Resource Committees that are just as passionate as the Board is in fulfilling their obligation to the Christmas Valley community to maintain and preserve Baert Lake, the Christmas Valley Golf Course, the Rodeo Grounds, the Christmas Valley Airport and the Christmas Valley Community Hall. Also, the Desert Whispers newspaper.

The Christmas Valley Park and Recreation District was formed on February 6, 1963. The first board members/founder's of this special tax district were John Petrus, Warren Morton and Charles Selby. The district was formed to preserve these wonderful North Lake community assets. The tax district is rather small- being just the Christmas Valley township proper delineated in the 1960's. Throughout its history CVPR has seen many changes and deterioration of several assets over time.

The current Board: Glenna Wade, Chair; Shara Shumway; Dave Uran; Barbara Ferrando; Frank Crocker- have proactively hired Robbie Newport as the Golf Course Superintendent. Robbie has a great deal of knowledge from having worked as Groundskeeper for Bandon Dunes and for Sunriver Golf Course. Robbie is also an avid golfer. Robbie was raised in North Lake county and graduated from North Lake High School. He learned to play golf on the Christmas Valley Golf Course in high school.

The Board hired James Hoan as Maintenance. James is an Army Veteran with an extensive background in mechanics and other general maintenance. Jim has been very busy overhauling and performing extensive maintenance on the equipment necessary for the golf course, as well as, fixing various things at the Rodeo Grounds and the Airport. He has also cleaned and organized the maintenance shop.

Becky Womack and Kenny Winebrenner
CVPR Rodeo Grounds Committee Members.

Last year, the Board hired Karen Morgan as the CVPR Manager and Desert Whispers editor. Karen has a background in insurance, Risk Management and Federal Contract administration. Prior to coming to CVPR she worked as an office administrator/veterinary assistant for several years. Karen was raised in the Rogue Valley in Southern Oregon.

These employees make a very cohesive team for CVPR; each one has a passion for their position.

The Board recently voted to establish a resolution for the creation of several Resource Advisory Committees; committee members are appointed by the Board. The committees each have three members. The members do not have to live in the tax district (as is the criteria for Board members). The committee members must have an interest in the nature of the committee they wish to serve on and have the best interest in mind for the preservation of the CVPR assets. Although they are all Board appointed, they have no authority other than what is allowed by the CVPR Board.

The Lake Committee members are Alan Parks, Earl Diment, and Mark Zachary.

Alan Parks is a rancher raised in Christmas Valley. His family has lived here for generations. Alan has a home on Baert Lake and monitors the lake level, and is instrumental in the preservation of the lake and maintaining the grounds surrounding the lake.

Alan is a Board member of Mid-state Electric. He and his wife, Laura, have been very active in the Christmas Valley/North Lake community for many years.

Earl Diment spent 24 years with the Portland Fire & Rescue in Portland, OR. He is currently the CEO of Diment Consulting and is Chief Safety Officer for Pioneering Technology. Earl is a homeowner on Baert Lake and is an active participant in the Lake Committee's efforts. Earl also holds a position on the North Lake Health District's board and is on the May 8th ballot for re-election.

Mark Zachary and his wife also own a home on the lake. They have been very active in the preservation of the lake and the golf course. The Zachary's have purchased a few properties around the lake and golf course and have been rehabilitating those properties in an effort to enhance the property values in the area.

The Rodeo Grounds Committee members: Kenny Winebrenner, Jim Strong, and Becky Womack.

Kenny Winebrenner has lived in Lake County for 17 years. He was raised in Montana where he trained horses and worked as a ranch hand. Kenny is currently the work crew foreman for the Lake County Community Justice Probation. Each week Kenny brings his crew to Christmas Valley to help with various projects in our community. He and his crew have done great things for CVPR. Kenny is also a member of the Lakeview Rodeo Roundup Committee.

Jim Strong has lived in Christmas Valley since 2018. He is very active in the community and holds a position on the Christmas Valley Water District board. He is currently seeking a position on the Christmas Valley Fire District's board. Look for him on the May 18th ballot.

Becky Womack was born in Lakeview and was raised in Silver Lake. Becky's father, Ernie Messner, was instrumental in the building of the Christmas Valley Rodeo Grounds in the 1960's. He also was the rodeo promoter. The Christmas Valley Rodeo back then was said to have been bigger than the Pendleton rodeo!

The Rodeo Grounds committee members have already had a couple of work days at the CV Rodeo Grounds and have done a great deal in a short time.

They have organized gymkhana/play days to take place every second Saturday of the month starting in May 2021 and ending September 2021. It will be a day of fun for all as the Farmer's Market will be held on the north end of the arena on the same days.

Lake County Commissioner, James Williams, and Jim Strong have agreed to be our announcers at the first gymkhana/play day event on Saturday, May 8th. We are still seeking community volunteers for this season of events.

The Golf Course Committee members: Dan Maple, Greg Rondeau, and Dan Kinion.

Dan Maple and his family moved to Christmas Valley in 1990 to take over the running of the Desert Inn, their family owned business-now owned and operated by daughter, Mitzi Maple.

Over the years, Dan worked for Ed Staub and Robbins Equipment. After retirement, he worked part-time for Kern's in Christmas Valley.

Dan has been an active member of the Christmas Valley community. He served as Board chair of CVPR for eight years, as Board chair of CV Fire District for ten years, as a volunteer EMT for 16 years and as a volunteer Sheriff Reserve for 26 years.

Greg Rondeau was raised in Corvallis, OR. Greg is now retired after 40 years of working for Holiday Tree Farms in Corvallis. Holiday Tree Farms is the LARG-EST tree farm in the world.

In 1975, Greg made his first trip to Christmas Valley to hunt rabbits and to fish for trout in Baert Lake.

In 2008, he and Dan Kinion built a house on 6th fairway of the Christmas Valley Golf Course.

Dan Kinion retired three years ago after working in sales of commercial and industrial coatings for 36 years. Dan says, "Christmas Valley has been a terrific place to get away and enjoy the desert!!" Dan and his wife, Kathy, enjoy exploring and hiking all over Lake County.

Dan and Greg have been Christmas Valley Golf Members for many years. They have been very active in the preservation and maintenance of the golf course even before the formalization of the committee. They have been instrumental in the Annual Christmas Valley golf tournament and host a fabulous party afterwards at their home on the 6th fairway. Greg also keeps statistics from our golf sign in sheets to see how many people golf throughout the season and where they come from. We have golfers that come here every year from France.

The Airport Committee members: Buck Church, Joe Adams, (plus one nominee pending our next Board meeting).

Buck Church and his family have been farming in Christmas Valley for generations. Buck has held his pilots license for six years. Buck looks forward to helping the Board with the future projects planned for the airport. Buck is active on the North Lake EMS Board, as well.

Our CVPR Board members take pride in the duty they have to fulfill their obligations to our community Park and Recreation District.

Lake County Community Foundation is Accepting Grant Applications

Deadline: Friday; April 30, 2021
at 5:00 PM

The Lake County Community Foundation is accepting grant applications that benefit Lake County. The foundation expects to award approximately $5,000.00 in grants to one or more eligible groups in Lake County. To complete an application please go to the Lake County Community Foundation website, <http://www.lakecountycommunityfoundation.net/Page2.html>, and fill out the appropriate forms. Mail the forms to the Lake County Community Foundation, 18337 Padget Rd, Lakeview, OR 97630 by 5:00 PM, April 30, 2021, or email to Jim at jim.walls@lcri.org.

In 2013 the Opportunity (Op) Shop decided to put their assets towards creating the Lake County Community Foundation (LCCF), endowing it with $105,656.00. The LCCF board invested those funds with the Oregon Community Foundation and their assets of over $2 billion. Since that time the LCCF has awarded $37,000.00 in grants around Lake County and grown the assets of the LCCF to $141,309.92. Even during this difficult year, LCCF assets grew by 11,099.00. Part of this was a donation from a private individual of $3,088.58 from required minimum distribution. Remember all donations to LCCF are tax deductible and you can work with us on how you want us to handle your contribution.

Through the OP Shop gift they will continue doing good things for Lake County forever. For more information on creating your own endowment or giving to LCCF contact:

Saving Water inside the home

We can all do our part to lessen the effects of limited water supplies this summer. We can start by conserving the water we use today. Here you will find helpful and common tips for saving water inside your home.

☒ Monitor your water bill

Checking your water bill for unusually high water use can alert you to leaks in your home. Knowing how much water your household typically uses make this easier to determine. If your water use seems high, first determine if the increase is due to changes in your daily routine. If not, you may have a leak.

☒ Periodically test and check for water leaks

If it's easy to find, check your water meter before and after a two-hour period when no water is being used. If the meter does not read exactly the same, you probably have a leak. Common household leaks include: running toilets, dripping faucets, and other leaking valves. If leaks are found, repairing them in a timely manner will not only conserve water, but will save you money by reducing your water bill.

Toilet leaks are often easy to detect. One way to check is to remove the tank lid, then drop 1 dye tablet or 10 drops of food coloring into the tank. (Dye tablets may be available from your local water provider.) Put the lid back on the toilet tank and come back in 10 to 15 minutes. If the water in the bowl has changed color, you have a leak. If the water hasn't turned a color, everything is okay.

Grabbing a wrench to repair a leaky faucet is simple, inexpensive, and can save up to 140 gallons of water per week. These types of leaks are often caused by faulty washers that don't allow your faucet to shut off properly. Faulty washers can be replaced fairly easily and inexpensively (typically for less than $1), which can help you save water and reduce your water bill.

☒ Wash only full loads

The average American household uses about 23 percent of its water running the clothes washer and dishwasher. Just one partially full load can waste 5 – 10 gallons of water.

☒ Wash fruits and vegetables in a pan of water

Avoid continually running water to clean those fruits and veggies. You can also save water by composting your food, instead of running it down the garbage disposal. You'll save water every time.

☒ Defrost food in the fridge

Rather than using running water to thaw food, for water efficiency as well as food safety, defrost food in the refrigerator.

☒ Keep drinking water in the fridge, re-purpose those ice cubes

Instead of running the tap until the water turns cold, keep a pitcher on hand in the fridge. This way, every drop of water goes down you and not the drain. For those ice cubes that hit the floor instead of your glass, don't toss them. Instead, drop them in a house plant.

☒ Turn off the water faucet while brushing your teeth

Doing so will save up to 4 gallons per minute. That's up to 200 gallons a week for a family of four.

☒ Plug the sink on purpose

When shaving, plug the sink instead of running the water to rinse your razor and save up to 300 gallons per month.

☒ Flush only when necessary

Don't use the toilet to flush tissues. Drop tissues in the trash instead of flushing them.

☒ Shorten your shower

Trimming a minute or two off your normal shower time can save up to 150 gallons per month. Keeping the shower time to less than 5 minutes can save the average household up to 1,000 gallons per month. Turning the water off while washing your hair can save up to 150 gallons a month.

☒ Retrofit old showerheads, faucets, and aerators

You can save up to 40 percent of the water used for showering by replacing an older showerhead with a water efficient model. Look for WaterSense® models, which use less than 2 gallons per minute. Your local water provider may offer water conservation kits that often include a water-efficient showerhead and other water-reducing devices. Replacing old, inefficient faucets and aerators with WaterSense® labeled models can save the average family 700 gallons of water each year, equivalent to 40 showers. Some water suppliers offer indoor water conservation kits that include water-efficient faucet aerators.

☒ Replace that old toilet

By replacing old, inefficient toilets with more water-efficient WaterSense® labeled models, the average family can reduce water used for toilets by 20 to 60 percent – or close to 13,000 gallons of water conserved every year! That's a savings of more than $110 per year in water costs, and $2,200 over the lifetime of the toilet. Many municipal water providers offer a rebate for replacing an old toilet with one that uses no more than 1.6 gallons per flush.

☒ Consider a dual-flush toilet

It has two flush options: a half-flush for liquid waste and a full-flush for solid waste. A standard water-efficient toilet uses approximately 1.6 gallons per flush, which is about the amount of water a dual-flush toilet uses for the solid waste option. The half-flush option for liquid waste only uses about 0.9 gallon per flush. An average family of four can save approximately 7,000 gallons per year by switching to a dual-flush toilet.

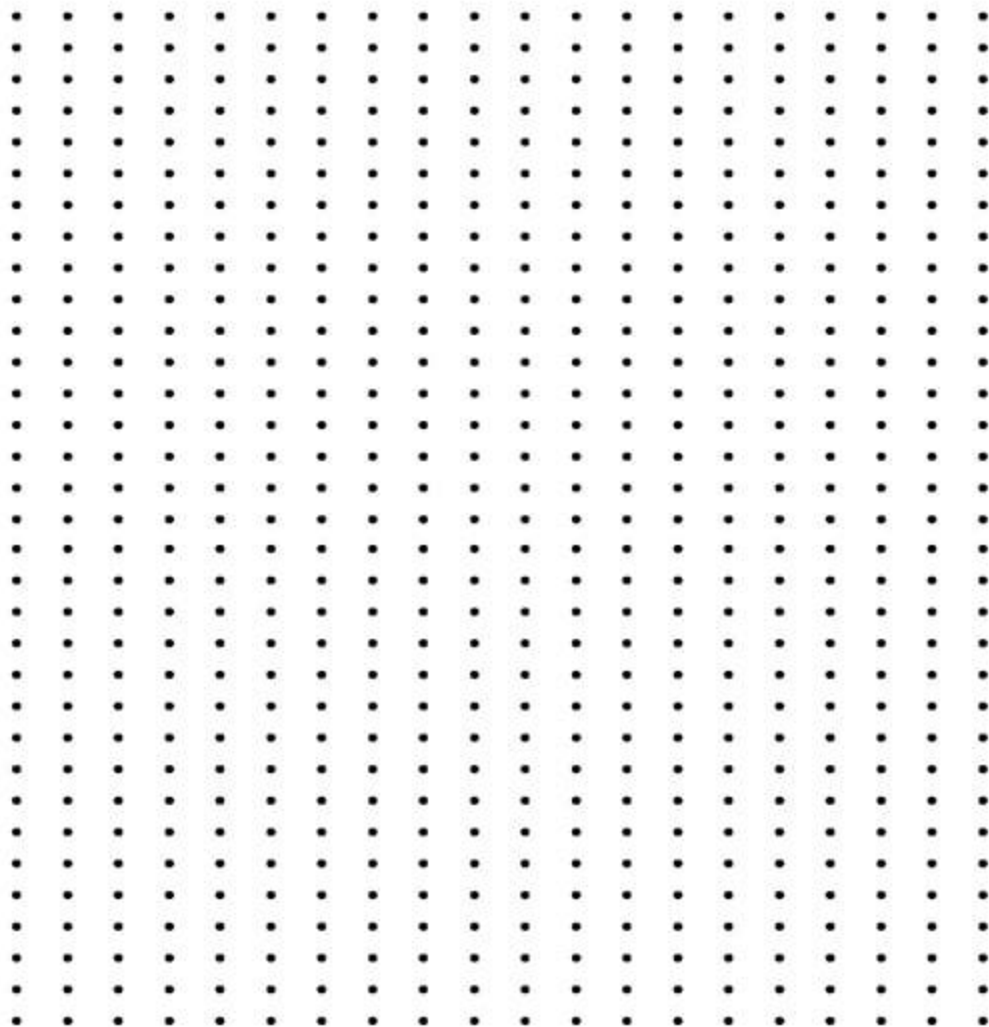

☒ Determine how much water you use

Access the Alliance for Water Efficiency's water calculator to get an estimate of how much water your household uses. The calculator also compares your estimated water usage to an average home and a highly efficient home. Visit <http://www.home-water-works.org/calculator>.

FRAN'S FUN AND GAMES

Connect the Dots

Two-player game: each player takes turns drawing a line between a pair of dots. Lines can be drawn anywhere but must be horizontal or vertical and between adjacent dots. The goal is to make four sides of a box. Each time you create a box, put your initial in the box and take another turn. The player who creates the most boxes wins. The game is over when the page is completely filled with boxes.

Kentucky Derby History

There are few American sporting events with the history and popularity of the Kentucky Derby. It's rich traditions – sipping a mint julep, donning a beautiful hat, and joining fellow race fans in singing “My Old Kentucky Home” – transcend the Kentucky Derby from just a sporting event, making it a celebration of southern culture and a true icon of Americana. The Kentucky Derby is the longest running sporting event in the United States, dating back to 1875. The race is often referred to as “The Run for the Roses” and has continuously produced “the most exciting two minutes in sports”; uninterrupted, even when coinciding with profound historical events like The Great Depression and World Wars I & II.

The Kentucky Derby's long history began in 1872, when Meriwether Lewis Clark, the grandson of William Clark – of the famed pair Lewis and Clark – traveled to Europe. While there, Clark attended the Epsom Derby in England, a well-known horse race run since 1780, and also fraternized with the French Jockey Club, a group that developed another popular horse race, the Grand Prix de Paris Longchamps. Clark was inspired by his travels and experiences, and, upon his return, was determined to create a spectacle horse racing event in the States. With the help of his uncle's John & Henry Churchill, who gifted Clark the necessary land to develop a racetrack, and by formally organizing a group of local race fans to be named the Louisville Jockey Club, Clark and his new club raised funds to build a permanent racetrack in Louisville, Kentucky. On May 17th, 1875, the racetrack opened its gates and the Louisville Jockey Club sponsored the very first Kentucky Derby. A total of fifteen three-year-old Thoroughbred horses raced one and a half miles in front of a cheering crowd of approximately 10,000 spectators. Aristides was the first winner of the Kentucky Derby.

As with any major event, the Kentucky Derby has undergone various changes over the course of three centuries. From shortening the distance of the race, the introduction of traditions like draping the winning horse in a garland of roses, to the growing size of Derby crowds, the Kentucky Derby has embraced the change of time, while honoring the integrity of the spectacle race set forth by Meriwether Lewis Clark.

Exotic Plants

Madagascar Periwinkle
Catharanthus roseus (L.) G. Don/ Dog Bane Family
Apocynaceae

Few plants have generated as much recent interest among the scientific and medical communities as the Madagascar periwinkle, C. roseus (also known as Vinca rosea). In the mid-1950's researcher heard of a "Periwinkle Tea" that was drunk in Jamaica, and began to study the plant for its reported anti diabetic properties. They found much more that they had hoped for: the plant, they found, contains two anticancer alkaloids-vincristine and vinblastine- that inhibit the growth of tumors. Vincristine has proved most effective in treating childhood leukemia, vinblastine in treating testicular cancer and Hodgkin's disease (cancer of the lymphatic system). Like many drugs used in chemotherapy, both alkaloids produce such side effects as nausea and hair loss.

Along with the lesser periwinkle, rauwolfia, and other members of the dogbane family, the Madagascar periwinkle is endowed with other medicinal assets, too. In all, it contains more than 70 known alkaloid agents. Some of these decrease blood sugar levels; others reduce blood pressure.

Long before modern researchers learned of the plant's valuable and varied properties, folk healers in faraway places were using the Madagascar periwinkle for a host of medicinal purposes. In India, they treated wasp stings with the juice from the leaves. In Hawaii, the prescribed an extract of the boiled plant to arrest bleeding. In Central America and parts of South America, the made a gargle to ease sore throats and chest ailments. In Cuba, Puerto Rico, Jamaica and other islands, an extract of the flowers was commonly administered as an eye-wash. Most of these practices are still followed today.

The plant that serves so many people in so many important ways is both demure and beautiful. Although it is native to the Indian Ocean island of Madagascar, it is extensively cultivated, and it has become naturalized in many warm regions of the world, including the southern United States. Averaging 1 to 2 feet tall, the plant is cloaked in glossy, dark green leaves up to 2 inches long. Its flowers, borne all summer at the ends of branching stems, are fragile rosy point blossoms about 1 1/2 inches across, typically having purplish-red "eyes" in the center. There are a number of varieties available commercially, with colors ranging from hot pink to mauve and white. Seed catalogues often group them with true periwinkles (vinca).
