Christmas Valley Water District to Increase Rates

by: Karen Morgan

A hearing was held on September 8th, 2021, to discuss the CV Water District's annual operations water rate increase. Several community members came out to voice their concerns and to ask questions.

Erica Anderson, the Water District Manager; the five-member Water District Board; Darryl Anderson, from Anderson Engineering and James Williams, Lake County Commissioner, were on hand to answer questions and inform the public.

Anderson Engineering & Survey, Inc. has been advising the CV Water District for over 20 years, and conducted a thorough rate study for the district prior to the hearing. The recent rate study results, for annual operating expenses and reserves, indicated that the Water District needed to increase the water use rates by 88-105%. The Water District rates are currently $54.40 per month which is a flat rate for all water customers regardless of the amount of water usage.

Anderson Engineering also recently completed the "Master Plan" for the Water District which assessed the financial needs of the Water District to repair the existing infrastructure at close to $12 million.

The water district obtained a $500,000.00 grant/$1.2 million loan 10 years ago for a repair project of approximately eight miles of water infrastructure. The Water District currently pays an annual rate of $44,394.00 on that 30 year loan.

The Water District is in the process of applying for another such grant/loan of $500,000.00 grant/with a $1.1 million 30 year loan requiring a $43,327.00 annual payment to begin after the infrastructure repair has been completed. The Water District anticipates the work to be completed sometime after June of 2022. There will be an expected rate increase after the new payment takes effect in 2022.

Meanwhile, the Water District is pursuing a block grant through Business Oregon in the hope of getting $2.5M in grant money to repair more of the CV water infrastructure. Portland State University will be sending out a demographics study to residents as a requirement for the grant. It is very important that all residents complete the survey and return it. The survey is three questions, it is anonymous and does not require your name or personal information. To qualify for the grant CV Water District must show that 51% of the residents of the Water District are low to moderate income. Surveys that are not returned are automatically counted as over-income and the results of the survey stand for a five year period.

The other major change coming for the Water District and water customers is metering water usage. Currently there are some meters for water customers, but they are not currently read on a routine basis. The Oregon Water Resources Department required CV Water District to provide an updated Water Management and Conservation Plan. The CV Water District submitted their 2021 plan, and it was approved upon condition that within the next eighteen months they become compliant with the Water Resources Department's requirement that all water customers be metered. This will require CV Water District to read each meter on a monthly basis, meaning they will need to hire additional staff. Erica Anderson expressed concern that since we have a great amount of wind and everything gets buried in the sand that it will take a lot of effort to read the meters.

Ben Widenoja, a resident in attendance, suggested "smart meters." Although that is an excellent suggestion, Erica Anderson stated that "smart meters" are very expensive and to replace the existing meters and to add new "smart meters" would be cost prohibitive.

When the metering plan is implemented the Water District will bill water customer's at the flat rate with a consumption limit, and anything over the consumption limit will be an additional charge to the individual customer.

For now, the CV Water District Board discussed a possible 20% monthly rate increase making the new monthly flat rate $65.28. The Board will meet again at a special meeting on September 29th, 2021, at 6:00 p.m. at the Water District Office to make a final decision and vote on the annual operations and reserves rate increase.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Several of the properties in the Christmas Valley township have utility easements for the Christmas Valley Water District.

When you have a utility easement on your property, the utility company/Water District may have a range of legal rights.

A few restrictions you might face include:

- Utility company/Water District access without your approval.
- Utility company/Water District may restrict your use of the easement when your use can harm underground water mains, valves, water meters, and the like.
- Restrictions on physical alterations: You may want to make an improvement to a certain section of your property. But the utility easement may prevent certain upgrades, such as erecting a fence or a gate.
- Vegetation restrictions: The utility company may require regular access to a particular area and constantly tear up your garden. Additionally, many utility easements limit the planting of major trees in a specified area.

If you're considering purchasing a property with a utility easement, take some time to research the local laws and regulations.

If you have questions regarding your utility easement call:
(541) 576-2090 or (541) 947-6921

Saving Water outside the home

We can all do our part to lessen the effects of limited water supplies this summer. We can start by conserving the water we use today. Here you will find helpful and common tips for saving water outside your home.

☒ Adjust sprinklers & water when it's cool

Sprinklers should water your lawn and garden, not the street or sidewalk. Most automatic irrigation timers are set to go off in the early morning (5:00 am – 7:00 am); therefore, utilities must often super-size their facilities to meet early morning demands. Setting irrigation timers at other times of the morning or night (11:00 pm – 5:00 am), when temperatures are cooler, helps minimize evaporation and shave peak water usage.

☒ Inspect your irrigation system

Look for leaks, broken lines, or blockage in the lines. A well maintained system will save you money, time, and water. Even little things like a shut-off nozzle for your garden hose can save you about 5 – 7 gallons each minute.

☒ Water established lawns about 1 inch per week

You may need slightly more during hot, dry weather. Some water providers will use a “weekly watering number” that is based on local weather conditions to help customers determine exactly how much water their gardens and landscapes need each week.

☒ Adjust your watering schedule

Whether you have a manual or automatic system, be sure to adjust your watering schedule throughout the irrigation season. Adjusting the amount of water used to match weather conditions (watering more when it is hot and dry, less when it is cooler and wet) helps you water your landscape more efficiently.

☒ Apply the amount of water your soil can absorb

Water thoroughly, but infrequently. If runoff or puddling occurs, break longer watering sessions into several short sessions allowing water to soak into the soil between each session.

☒ Consider using water-saving technology

Weather-based irrigation controllers, which act as a thermostat for your sprinkler system, use local weather data to determine when and how much water to use. Soil moisture sensors water plants based on their needs by measuring the amount of moisture in the soil and tailoring the irrigation schedule accordingly. Rainfall shutoff devices and rain sensors help decrease water wasted in the landscape by turning off the irrigation system when it is raining.

☑ Adjust your mower to a higher setting

A taller lawn provides shade to the roots and helps retain soil moisture, so your lawn needs less water.

☑ Aerate your soil

Soil can become compacted during home construction or from normal foot traffic. Aerating your soil with a simple lawn aerator can increase the infiltration of water into the ground, improving water flow to the root zone and reducing water runoff.

☑ Replace lawns

Consider replacing some lawn areas with low water use plants and ornamental grasses. They are easier to maintain than turf, don't need as much water, and look beautiful. Seek out native plants that are appropriate to your local climate and soil conditions. Once established, these plants require little water beyond normal rainfall, are very low maintenance, require little to no pesticides or fertilizer, and are more resistant to pests and diseases than are other species.

☑ Use mulch around shrubs & garden plants

Doing so helps reduce evaporation, inhibit weed growth, moderate soil temperature, and prevent erosion. Types of mulch include bark chips, grass clippings, straw, leaves, stones, and brick chips. Leave a few inches of space between trunks of woody plants and organic mulches to prevent rot.

☑ Group plants together

Creating a garden with "watering zones" allows you to give each plant the water it requires – not too much, not too little.

☑ Minimize or eliminate fertilizer

Fertilizer encourages thirsty new growth, causing your landscape to require additional water. Minimize or eliminate the use of fertilizer where possible. If you do need fertilizer, look for a product that contains "natural organic" or "slow-release" ingredients. These fertilizers feed plants slowly and evenly, helping to create healthier plants with strong root systems and no excessive "top growth." Moreover, using "slow-release" fertilizers can reduce nutrient run-off into ground and surface waters, protecting natural resources.

☑ Use a broom and a bucket

Sweep patios, sidewalks and driveways clean with a broom, instead of using a hose. Instead of using a running hose, fill a bucket with water to wash your car. A hose equipped with a shut-off nozzle would also work.

Cumin : Growing It

Cuminum is a flowering annual in the Apiaceae or Umbelliferae family (along with angelica, fennel, and dill), growing best in hot, arid conditions. Sounds like our area!! It will flourish in USDA grow zones 5-10 with accommodations. A low-maintenance, drought tolerant plant, cumin can be seed-sown directly into soil in climates with at least four months of hot, sunny weather. In all other areas, start seeds indoors 4-8 weeks ahead of planting. Soak seeds for 8 hours, then plant ¼ inch down, covering with light top soil. Using biodegradable pots or soil blocks will guard against transplant shock.

Plant seedlings 4-8 inches apart in well-drained, sandy, loamy soil once temperatures consistently reach 60°F or above. Cumin grows 1-2 feet tall producing umbels of delicate, white-pink fragrant flowers through summer that, along with their dill-like, feathery fronds, are edible (and loved by pollinators).

After flowers fade in the fall, seed pods will appear. Harvest these by cutting stems to the ground and placing seed heads upside-down in a paper bag to dry out. After a week, shake the bag to loosen the seeds from the chaff.

PUMPKIN GINGERBREAD

Ingredients~recipe yields 24 servings

3 cups sugar
1 cup vegetable oil
4 eggs
¾ cup water
1 (15 ounce) can pumpkin puree
2 teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground cloves
3 ½ cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 ½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon baking powder

Directions:

Step 1

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C). Lightly grease two 9x5 inch loaf pans.

Step 2

In a large mixing, combine sugar, oil and eggs; beat until smooth. Add water and beat until well blended. Stir in pumpkin, ginger, allspice cinnamon, and clove.

Step 3

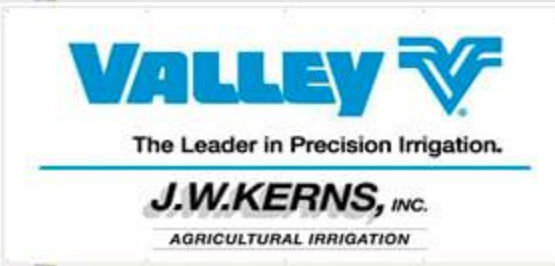

In medium bowl, combine flour, soda, salt, and baking powder. Add dry ingredients to pumpkin mixture and blend just until all ingredients are mixed. Divide batter between prepared pans.

Step 4

Bake in preheated oven until toothpick comes out clean, about 1 hour.
