Simple Habits To Improve Your Wellness In 2022 And Beyond

*By Dr. Kristy Lewis, Naturopathic Doctor &
Holistic Nutritionist based in Ottawa, Canada*

Can you imagine a life where you are full of energy, live pain-free, and feel connected to yourself? It's possible. And you deserve it!

Habits are actions you perform frequently. Over time, you don't have to think about them. You do them automatically because they become part of your subconscious mind. Habits have 3 parts:

- Cue: a trigger that initiates action
- Routine: the action you do
- Reward: your benefit from doing the action

For example, one habit that we've all developed is brushing our teeth. Bad breath or bedtime cues us to perform the action. The reward is our mouths feeling minty fresh!

To create a new habit, identify a cue, routine, and reward. Then repeat action daily for about a month. For example, if you want to start doing yoga every day, place a yoga mat next to your bed. You'll feel rewarded by the relaxation you feel in your body. Soon, you'll want to do yoga every day. It won't feel like hard work anymore.

Which habits matter? A holistic approach to your habits and lifestyle will have the biggest impact. I recommend focusing on your sleep, stress, nutrition, movement, and mindset.

Read on to see why each of these pillars matters, and how you can make small improvements to each. Over time, you'll see big results!

Sleep is the most important component in achieving all health goals. So many of us begin, re-start or feel frustrated with the lack of success on our health journey because we bypass this crucial component of health. Studies are now confirming that without restorative sleep, you will be in a constant state of deficiency, caloric intake is higher with more sugar and salt cravings, body repair and detoxification is impacted and ideal health is impossible to achieve even with the perfect diet and exercise program.

Here's how to change your habits to improve your sleep today:

- Go to bed at the same time each night
- Keep your phone out of your bedroom
- Reduce screen time 1-hour before bed

Managing stress is the second foundation in achieving ultimate health. Most of us spend much of day in a fight, flight or freeze response which in turn influences every aspect of our health. With the body in a constant state of cortisol overload, it is virtually impossible to optimize health even with a whole food diet and a consistent exercise program. During this phase of recovery, sleep plays a crucial role in supporting our stress response and the focus on food and exercise become the medicine to support our body in managing stress.

Here's how to change your habits to better manage your stress today:

Reduce your interactions with takers and negative people. If you can, block them entirely.

Reduce stimulants such as coffee and sugar that increase low-level stress all day.

Turn off work notifications in the evenings. That expense report can wait.

With improved quality and quantity of sleep as well as a new relationship with stress established, you can then fully receive all the benefits from an individualized nutrition program. At this point, discussion about elimination diets, detoxification programs, intermittent fasting etc. is relevant, not before this point.

Here's how to update your nutrition habits for big impact:

Eat small, nutrient-balanced meals every 3-4 hours. Balanced meals include lots of protein, fats, fruits and vegetables. They can also include carbs and sweets (in moderation).

Replace soda with sparkling water. All of the fizz, none of the empty calories.

Consult a healthcare professional to determine if you need any vitamins or supplements.

Wellness in 2022

High-intensity workouts and long-distance running programs yield incredible benefits but only with the other pillars balanced. Pushing the body before often results in further health declines and possible injury. With sleep improvements, stress supports in place and your individualized nutrition requirements intact your ideal exercise program will reveal itself.

Here are 3 easy habits to start moving more in 2022:

- Take a 10-minute walk break every day.
- Stretch when you get out of bed.
- Park your car at the back of the lot.

Often underestimated about its impact on our physical body, our beliefs and thoughts can absolutely influence our physiology. When the mind is caught in negative thinking and a trance of obsessive thoughts, we are producing internal stressors that will compromise our health. Our beliefs, create our thoughts and our thoughts influence our choices. Therefore, implementing supportive lifestyle choices and a solid pillar of health requires self-awareness and clarity of mind.

Improve your mindset today by implementing one of these 3 habits for a month:

- Think of one thing you are grateful for each night. Say it out loud or write it down.

- Meditate for just 1 minute a day. Over time, increase to 5 or 10 minutes.
- Try a breathing exercise, such as a belly breathing or a box breath—inhale for 4, hold for 4, exhale for 4 and hold for 4.

You deserve to live your best life! Make that commitment to yourself to pursue wellness on a daily basis.

If you need help, reach out to your community.

Join a support group.

Work with a healthcare provider.

Study health and wellness. Read the Kardish Wellness Blog.

We're all rooting for you!

A few simple all body workouts:

- Lay flat on the floor and get up! Build up to 10 reps.
- Put on your favorite music and dance! 20-30 minutes.
- Stand like a tree; legs close together, arms raised like branches. Don't move or shift for 10-20 minutes. It is not as easy as it sounds.

Thank You Fire Department

Thank you to all who volunteer. Thank you for being there when the rest of us can't. Had it been up to me, my hay barn would have burned down while I slept unaware of any disaster, and then even if I had known about it, I don't know what I could have done. After the fire was all over, I realized I hadn't even offered hospitality to those working, no coffee, sandwiches, water; all things my mother would have upbraided me for having forgotten.

Long ago both of us volunteered a lot until we were burned out and other circumstances, like age and being away from home all changed our ability to respond. Why people won't volunteer is a favorite rant of mine. However, I remember the personal sacrifice, the meals not cooked, the times I forgot to gas up before I went on a call, the fatigue of volunteering all night and working the next day, the cost of maintaining your own training, the cost of time away from home and family for training in distant locations... etcetera that is not paid for.

On the 16th of December Jo Jo didn't hesitate to call in the fire before it got too big and out of control. The fire department's response saved the hay barn with minimal structural damage. They worked all night, into the next day, and came and checked on it repeatedly. Please add your personal thanks to these firefighters the next time you see them.

Thank you to firefighters: Chad Brown, Mike Clark, Steve Hilger, Paige Pline, Josh Buzzell, and Dino Aspiranti. Thank you Paige for fast thinking to call Dinsdale's crew for help.

Thank you to Tyler Meyer and Scott Dufner who brought in a squeeze and saved some of the hay before it burned and then used front end loaders to scoop the burning hay out of the structure.

Thank you again from Pat and Roger Widenoja

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF MEASURE ELECTION AND NOTICE OF RECEIPT OF BALLOT TITLE

Notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, May 17, 2022 an election will be held in Lake County, Oregon. This election will be vote by mail. The County's designated polling site, located in the Lake County Courthouse, Lakeview, Oregon, will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on May 17, 2022.

Notice is hereby given that a ballot title for a measure referred by Lake County has been filed with the County Clerk of Lake County on December 16, 2021. The ballot title meets the single subject requirement. The following Ballot Title shall be submitted to the qualified electors thereof:

REFERRED TO THE PEOPLE BY LAKE COUNTY

Formation of North Lake Emergency Services District with Permanent Rate

QUESTION: Shall North Lake Emergency Services District be formed with permanent tax rate of $2.64/$1,000 of assessed value beginning FY 2022-23?

SUMMARY: This measure would create a taxing district authorized by ORS chapter 478 to provide emergency medical services to the area served by North Lake County EMS, currently a non-profit, volunteer organization. The measure also would approve a property tax levy of $2.64 per $1,000 of assessed value to provide a source of permanent operating revenue for the district.

The district would be governed by a five-member Board of Directors elected at large. The purpose of the emergency services district will be to provide a source of stable funding to provide emergency medical (EMS) services and pre-hospital care; upgrade and maintain buildings, vehicles and equipment; provide regular training and education for staff; add between two and three additional EMTs; and provide competitive compensation to attract and retain employees. A home with an assessed value of $100,000 would pay approximately $264 a year.

An elector may file a petition for review of this ballot title in Lake County Circuit Court no later than 5:00 p.m. on December 28, 2021.

Dated this 16th day of December, 2021.

Artemisia Frigida

Hi guys n gals in and around Christmas Valley area. I am going to write on a common desert herb found in the dried up mountain streams around us.

Well, whether alone or with my family we went for a walk down Silver Creek. As we were walking I came across two different silver-white looking plants that God pointed out to me. Nothing really special at that time until I realized this is also my lifestyle and started taking it seriously. Well, one of the herbs I ran across while hitting the dry creek bed close to the Silver Creek was "Artemisia Frigida".

Linnaeus named the genus in 1753. Artemis was Apollo's twin sister and daughter of Zeus and Leto. She was equal or like the Greek goddess Diana. The Greek goddess, Diana was goddess of the Moon, woods, and the wild.

Greek legend states that she derived so much benefit from these plants that the species was named after her.

Artemisia Frigida is a perennial with a woody base. The stems are covered in lobed grey-green leaves which are covered in silver hairs. The stem contains many flower heads and lined with grey-green, brownish fur. Self pollinating hermaphrodite flowers. Very aromatic, strong citronella-like smelling plant. This plant is a strong seed producer.

From various tribes of North America. It is used medicinally for coughs, colds, wounds, and heartburn by the Black Foot tribe. Cree people use it for headache and fever and the Tewa people took it for gastritis. Zuni people use it as an infusion for colds, sprigs of the plant and corn ears were also used by female dancers in a dramatic dance. Sprigs of this plant were also dipped in water and plated with corn for more abundant crops. It is also a wild animal forage and erosion control in landscaping.

Artemisia Frigida likes poor to semi-fertile soil that is dry well drained and in full sun. It does not like moist soils.

It may be used as an antispasmodic, deodorant, disinfectant, poultice, stimulant, stomachic, vermifuge, for women's complaints, dye, essential oils, and bug repellent and a non-predatory bug protector.

Wow guys, there is a plant with a lot of potential that you spot on a walk. Please folks be considerate to you forest. These plants are essential forage for all sorts of our wild herbivores.

I love the smell of fresh mint while walking the creek as well.

See ya next article.

Sincerely,
Sean
