10 Things You May Not Know About Martin Luther King Jr.

Explore 10 surprising facts about the civil rights leader.

by: CHRISTOPHER KLEIN

Baptist minister and social activist Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. (1929-1968) dedicated his life to the non-violent struggle for justice in the United States. King's leadership played a pivotal role in ending entrenched segregation for African Americans and to the creation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

1. King's Birth Name Was Michael, Not Martin

King was born Michael King Jr. on January 15, 1929. In 1934, however, his father, a pastor at Atlanta's Ebenezer Baptist Church, traveled to Germany and became inspired by the Protestant Reformation leader Martin Luther. As a result, King Sr. changed his own name as well as that of his five-year-old son.

2. King Entered College At the Age of 15

King was such a gifted student that he skipped grades nine and 12 before enrolling in 1944 at Morehouse College, the alma mater of his father and maternal grandfather. Although he was the son, grandson and great-grandson of Baptist ministers, King did not intend to follow the family vocation until Morehouse president Benjamin E. Mays, a noted theologian, convinced him otherwise. King was ordained before graduating college with a degree in sociology.

3. King Received His Doctorate in Systematic Theology

After earning a divinity degree from Pennsylvania's Crozer Theological Seminary, King attended graduate school at Boston University, where he received his Ph.D. degree in 1955. The title of his dissertation was "A Comparison of the Conceptions of God in the Thinking of Paul Tillich and Henry Nelson Wieman."

4. King's 'I Have a Dream' Speech Was Not His First At the Lincoln Memorial

Six years before his iconic oration at the March on Washington, King was among the civil rights leaders who spoke in the shadow of the Great Emancipator during the Prayer Pilgrimage for Freedom on May 17, 1957. Before a crowd estimated at between 15,000 and 30,000, King delivered his first national address on the topic of voting rights. His speech, in which he urged America to "give us the ballot," drew strong reviews and positioned him at the forefront of the civil rights leadership.

5. King Was Imprisoned Nearly 30 Times

According to the King Center, the civil rights leader went to jail 29 times. He was arrested for acts of civil disobedience and on trumped-up charges, such as when he was jailed in Montgomery, Alabama, in 1956 for driving 30 miles per hour in a 25-mile-per-hour zone.

6. King Narrowly Escaped an Assassination Attempt a Decade Before His Death

On September 20, 1958, King was in Harlem signing copies of his new book, Stride Toward Freedom, in Blumstein's department store when he was approached by Izola Ware Curry. The woman asked if he was Martin Luther King Jr. After he said yes, Curry said, "I've been looking for you for five years," and she plunged a seven-inch letter opener into his chest. The tip of the blade came to rest alongside his aorta, and King underwent hours of delicate emergency surgery. Surgeons later told King that just one sneeze could have punctured the aorta and killed him. From his hospital bed where he convalesced for weeks, King issued a statement affirming his nonviolent principles and saying he felt no ill will toward his mentally ill attacker.

7. King's Last Public Speech Foretold His Death

King had come to Memphis in April 1968 to support the strike of the city's Black garbage workers, and in a speech on the night before his assassination, he told an audience at Mason Temple Church: "Like anybody, I would like to live a long life. Longevity has its place. But I'm not concerned about that now ... I've seen the Promised Land. I may not get there with you. But I want you to know tonight, that we, as a people, will get to the Promised Land. And I'm happy tonight. I'm not worried about anything. I'm not fearing any man. Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord."

8. Members of King's Family Did Not Believe James Earl Ray Acted Alone

Ray, a career criminal, pled guilty to King's assassination but later recanted. King's son Dexter met publicly with Ray in 1997 and argued for the case to be reopened. King's widow, Coretta, believed the Mafia and local, state and federal government agencies were deeply involved in the murder. She praised the result of a 1999 civil trial in which a Memphis jury decided the assassination was the result of a conspiracy and that Ray was set up to take the blame. A U.S. Department of Justice investigation released in 2000 reported no evidence of a conspiracy.

9. King's Mother Was Also Slain By a Bullet

On June 30, 1974, as 69-year-old Alberta Williams King played the organ at a Sunday service inside Ebenezer Baptist Church, Marcus Wayne Chenault Jr. rose from the front pew, drew two pistols and began to fire shots. One of the bullets struck and killed King, who died steps from where her son had preached nonviolence. The deranged gunman said that Christians were his enemy and that although he had received divine instructions to kill King's father, who was in the congregation, he killed King's mother instead because she was closer. The shooting also left a church deacon dead. Chenault received a death penalty sentence that was later changed to life imprisonment, in part due to the King family's opposition to capital punishment.

10. George Washington and Abraham Lincoln Are the Only Other Americans to Have Had Their Birthdays Observed as a National Holiday

In 1983 President Ronald Reagan signed a bill that created a federal holiday to honor King. The holiday, first commemorated in 1986, is celebrated on the third Monday in January, close to the civil rights leader's January 15 birthday.

THE EVENTS OF THE LAKEVIEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNUAL GALA INCLUDED AN ANNOUNCEMENT OF LAKE COUNTY FAIRGROUNDS PLANS OF A FUTURE EVENT CENTER FACILITY

BY KAREN MORGAN

The Lakeview Chamber of Commerce did a tremendous job of hosting their annual Kentucky Derby themed Gala to present their annual community participation awards.

To lead off the awards ceremony Commissioner Mark Alberson gave the blessing and then commenced with the announcement of the Lake County Fairgrounds final planning phase of four years of planning to reshape the existing Lake County Fairgrounds. The plan is to build a $7 Million dollar Event Center, which will consist of a free span building with an arena for rodeo and other events. It will be spacious enough to have concession areas, and designated areas for 4-H and FFA exhibits.

Commissioner Alberson said, "this facility will give kids and adults more opportunities."

Dustin Simms, a member of the fairgrounds committee, said the final planning stage is finding the funding for the project. He stated that the State has money allocated for Oregon's county fairgrounds and Lake County should see approximately $250,000.

Lake County created a master plan for the Lake County Fairgrounds thanks to $50,000 in Oregon Lottery proceeds in 2019. These dollars were awarded through Business Oregon.

Simms said that they will try to pursue matching grants, perhaps loans, and perhaps a county-wide bond measure to finance the project.

He stated that there are cost cutting plans; such as to have the Lake County Roads Department do all of the necessary site preparation. These are just ideas that the committee has tossed around.

There is still much for the county to consider before embarking on this project.

DOOR TO DOOR SURVEY UNDERWAY IN CHRISTMAS VALLEY

LAKEVIEW, Ore.—January 12, 2022— Residents in the Christmas Valley area may be getting a knock on their door for a very important reason. Local volunteers will be visiting door-to-door to follow up on mailed income surveys to Christmas Valley Water District residents and selected residents within 10 miles of the Christmas Valley Branch Library. A complete and accurate income survey is the first step of determining funding eligibility for improvements to the Christmas Valley Water District infrastructure and a new library facility. Income surveys must be collected from at least 80% of residents or selected residents for both projects in order to proceed.

The confidential survey is being conducted by staff at Portland State University. Every effort is being made to keep survey answers and respondents names separated. Survey answers are completely confidential. Completed surveys are returned to PSU in sealed envelopes so no local volunteers will see any survey responses. PSU will average all answers and only the averages will be shared.

"We know we are asking for information people may be uncomfortable sharing, but the benefit to the community from doing so has the potential to be huge," said Library Director Amy Hutchinson. "If the income survey is completed and the library service area qualifies, building a new branch library for Christmas Valley within the next five years suddenly becomes a very real possibility," said Hutchinson.

Questions may be directed to Amy Hutchinson at the Main Library at 541-947-6019 or via email at amyh@lakecountylibrary.org.

Wild Mint (Mentha Arvensis)

Hello, Christmas Valley area. This article I will be writing on wild mint.

While walking Silver Creek, Long Creek, Buck Creek, Sycan and Chewaucan rivers in my travels I run across little wild mint plants. Always a lovely smell in the air when you are around mint.

The name for mint was said to be inspired from a story in Greek Mythology. A nymph by the name of Minthe may have had an affair with Hades. Hades wife Percephone discovered the deception. She was said to have turned Minthe into a plant. Hence, the name mint. A plant where she would remain situated next to the river forever.

Wild mint belongs to the Lamiaceae Family. Lamiaceae is a heavily fragrant plant genus. The genus contains the well known spearmint, peppermint, chocolate mint and others.

Wild mints are native to most of the world. Different species live in different places, but mint grows everywhere in some form or other.

Mints are found next to creek beds. In shaded wooded areas close to pine needles and along rocky lake shores.

The plants grow to 45 cm generally. Square ribbed long stems with serrated edges and deep veins.

From memosas to mint paste mint has been used in foods and teas for generations.

North American Indians made a cold brewed tea as a lotion for fever and flu. A poultice was applied to the chest for pneumonia. The tea was taken for stomach pain, swelling, headaches, and diarrhea. Leaves were used on rotting teeth for breath. The herbs were used in a bath for rheumatism. The tea was also used for eye trouble.

Valued medicinally as an antiseptic, anti-inflammatory, helps with too much gas in the digestion system, promotes menstrual flow, proper milk secretion for lactating women, tone the tummy, is a stimulant, and a bug repellent. Rats and mice also dislike the smell of mint. Used in houses strewn about for rodent repellent. Mint was spread about around the grain in granaries to keep rodents off of the grain. Used as a perfume to deodorize houses. Leaves were sprinkled on meat and berries as a bug repellent. Mint spray is used to destroy human scent.

Animal studies suggest mint kills bacteria and fights cancerous tumor cells.

Contra indications any member of the mint family should not be used by pregnant women. In large doses can cause abortion.

Anyone with (GERD) Gastroesophageal reflux disease should not use because the mint causes stronger GERD issues. Is not soothing but is more agitating. Large quantities may be toxic. Do not apply oils to children's faces as may cause suffocation.

In my next article we will discuss giant or anise hyssop. Anise hyssop is an herb I came across by Baert Lake.

So, until the next exciting adventure in herbs see ya next time.

Sincerely,

Sean

Have a nice beginning of your year.
