North Lake High Football the Cowboys Make Playoffs for the First Time

by Robert Pettitt

For the 2023 season, the Cowboys rolled to a 6-2 record, unbeaten at home, to secure the #8 seed for the playoffs that began on November 5th. Several star players, led by Carter Golson and Jack Roscoe, paved the way to a spectacular year.

The first playoff game was hard-fought against the Triangle Lake Lakers. Golson and Roscoe combined for six touchdowns in the game, which saw the score see-saw through the first three quarters. North Lake trailed late in the third after leading, and the momentum seemed to have shifted against us.

It looked as if the game was unraveling. But in the fourth quarter, the offense came alive, and the 'boys raced for three touchdowns to the Lakers' one, winning their first ever playoff match by a score of 49-33.

Last night, round two pitted us against the #1 seeded Prairie City Panthers, a road game, and we were clearly the underdogs. We won the toss on a cold night, and things began on a high note but turned chilly in a hurry, as the Panthers scored first and kept on scoring. By half-time, the Cowboys were buried under a mountain of points, 33-0.

Some key injuries doomed the Cowboys—a pair of mild concussions and a sprained ankle—and we were short on players against a team of very big players. When the dust settled, the Panthers crushed us 47-0, ending our season.

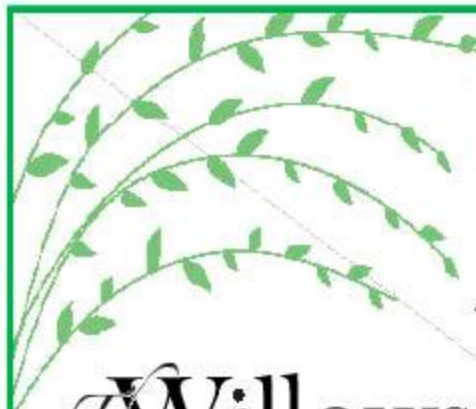

The takeaway? We made it to the second round of the playoffs. In a season full of optimism, there's no shame in one bad game against a powerhouse team.

Congratulations to the Panthers for an excellent year.

Chin up, Cowboys. We will be better next season!

- Restrictions on physical alterations: You may want to make an improvement to a certain section of your property. But the utility easement may prevent certain upgrades, such as erecting a fence or a gate.
- Vegetation restrictions: The utility company may require regular access to a particular area and constantly tear up your garden. Additionally, many utility easements limit the planting of major trees in a specified area.

If you're considering purchasing a property with a utility easement, take some time to research the local laws and regulations.

Let's Talk Turkey: Tips for a Safe Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is just days away and for those concerned about preparing this special meal, don't worry, USDA is here to help. The USDA Meat and Poultry Hotline is available all week and even on Thanksgiving Day to answer your questions. Here are some quick tips:

Clean: Keep bacteria out of your kitchen by washing your hands before, during and after you handle raw food. Make sure food preparation surfaces and utensils are clean.

Separate: Keep raw meat and poultry separate from produce and cooked foods by using different cutting boards.

Cook: Use a food thermometer to ensure your turkey is safe to eat. The recommended internal temperature must reach 165 F in three places: the thickest part of the breast, the innermost part of the thigh and the innermost part of the wing.

Chill: Your meal on the dinner table has only two hours before it becomes unsafe, and bacteria start to multiply. Make sure you put out just enough food for your guests and place the rest in your fridge in shallow containers.

USDA offers more advice on how to safely thaw your turkey and also offers a chart listing how much time you will need to roast a stuffed or unstuffed turkey.

For more information, call the USDA Meat and Poultry Hotline at 1-888-MPHotline (1-888-674-6854) or email MPHonline@usda.gov to reach a food safety expert.

Spooktacular Play Day

The 3rd Annual Spooktacular Play Day coordinated by Ashley Scheer, Karen Morgan, and Trina Dickson, was a fun experience enjoyed by all participants. Ashley Scheer with the aid of Brim Tractor made sure that the arena was well groomed, Karen Morgan handled the administration and took photos, but it was Trina Dickson that made the Spooktacular spectacular. Trina's hard work getting the prize money, getting all the awards, doing all the shopping for the free lunch fixings, and organizing all of the volunteers made for a wonderful event.

This year there were 33 participants from as far as Grants Pass, Madras, Burns, La Pine, Lakeview and Prineville. We were honored that the participants took the time to travel and spend the day with us competing and having fun on horses.

A special thank you to Christmas Valley Fire Department for watering the arena for the event.

Thank you to all of the sponsors: Brim Tractor, Sand City Lodge, Elise Flynn, DVM, El Gallo Loco, The Ranch Hand Bar & Grill, Valley View RV Park, The Willows, Stockton Farm Market, Opal Sage Sweets & Deli, Fort Rock Restaurant, Terry Terrill, Trina Dickson, Tammy Ilg, Sagewood Grocery, Broken T Hay Company, Roses Livestock Company, Martin Pernoll, Tom Rosenthal, Kerns, Phyllis Severson, Pacific Federal Credit Union, Massage by Shawn, and Jennifer Murray.

Thank you to all of our volunteers.

Thank you to the Christmas Valley Park and Recreation Board for the use of the arena.

MISSISSIPPI MUD

Cheesy Potatoes

One of the many recipes that came from the family recipe box, this handwritten recipe with an unknown source simply stated "They're named for the famous river because they're LONG on taste and MIGHTY good!"

Ingredients:

8-10 Cups potatoes, diced finely

16 ounces cheddar cheese, cubed or shredded

1 Cup mayonnaise (real)

1 package bacon, cooked and torn into large bits

1/2 Cup green onions, chopped

Instructions
In a 9x13 pan or 3 quart casserole dish, mix potatoes, cheddar cheese, bacon, and green onions.

Stir in mayonnaise.

Bake at 325 for an hour and a half or until potatoes are tender.

Top with additional cheese if desired.

Enjoy that bubbly, bacon-y, cheesy potato side dish. You could even add in some hamburger meat or chicken and make it a main dish, if you wanted to.

KCC's Yamasaki appointed to state HECC board

KLAMATH FALLS — Gayle Yamasaki, a project manager at Klamath Community College (KCC), was recently appointed by the Oregon State Legislature to serve a four-year term as a commissioner representing Oregon's 2nd Congressional District with the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC).

Yamasaki is one of four individuals recommended by the Office of Oregon Governor Tina Kotek and approved by the State Legislature to serve. The HECC board is comprised of 15 individuals, including faculty, staff and student representation from community colleges and universities. Board members volunteer to serve four-year terms, with an option for renewal, while university representatives serve two-year terms.

The primary purpose of HECC is to oversee post-secondary education and workforce training in Oregon, working closely with the State Legislature, community colleges, universities, and workforce development initiatives to ensure equitable affordability and accessibility for Oregonians. This includes administering funding in collaboration with the State Legislature, serving as the governing body for policies affecting student accessibility, and approving programs and certifications.

Yamasaki was originally recommended in February following a call for commissioners. She interviewed with the Oregon Governor's office, and following recommendation of Yamasaki's appointment in August, the Oregon Senate approved her to begin serving a four-year term starting in October. Yamasaki is among four new members recently appointed to HECC.

As a first-generation college student herself, Yamasaki brings an empathetic personal experience to her role in assuring post-secondary education opportunities remain affordable. Her work experience in addition to her current role at KCC includes past work at Oregon Tech, Klamath Falls City School District, along with ongoing service with the Oregon Cultural Trust and Oregon Community Foundation.

She has worked in a wide range of education-related roles, including time spent developing education programs in American Samoa and on the Navajo Nation reservation.

"I am a product of the community college system, and in many ways, I represent the very kind of student that we want to give opportunities to in Oregon," said Yamasaki. "To be able to be on a commission that may affect policy and access for Oregonians — what a wonderful thing."

As the state representative for Oregon's 2nd Congressional District, the area she serves is vast. Geographically the fifth largest congressional district in the United States, the region stretches from Hood River and Pendleton to Klamath Falls and Burns, encompassing the vast majority of Eastern Oregon and its many community colleges and universities.

"One of the biggest challenges today is what is the worth of a college education given the cost, and return on investment," added Yamasaki. "How do we make it more affordable and accessible for everybody? There is a big learning curve for me, but I am excited about the opportunity."

KCC soccer battle to 1-1 draw in home athletics debut

KLAMATH FALLS – It took 27 years for Klamath Community College to launch an athletics program, but in front of supporters and students on Sunday morning KCC Badgers soccer officially began, ending in a thrilling 1-1 tie hosting the Central Oregon Community College Bobcats.

Launched as a club sport, roughly 20 students expressed interest in starting a KCC soccer club at the start of the fall term in September. With some participants as old as 30 and a decade removed from competitive soccer experience, and lacking a proper on-campus soccer facility, a community scrimmage was held at Henley High School to gauge original interest. Once organized and with Henley Soccer Coach Lupe Gonzales signed on to run the squad, practices have been ongoing, held three times a week in the evenings at Klamath Union High School's Modoc Field.

Previous efforts to launch athletics at KCC had fallen through for a variety of reasons, but with extensive growth of KCC facilities and programs in recent years, the question of whether or not to reconsider sports was brought forth by staff members and students alike. Soccer received the initial go-ahead, with other possible club sports programs now under consideration.

"We had so many Henley, KU, and Mazama graduates around town that weren't doing anything, and some are enrolled at KCC, so we started a conversation about starting a club team," said Coach Gonzales.

The KCC Badgers team played its first road game at COCC several weeks ago, losing 3-0, but were competitive enough that the COCC team agreed to travel to Klamath Falls for a rematch. That game was Sunday – the final game of COCC's season, and the first home game of any kind in KCC athletics history.

The game at KU was preceded by a tailgate party hosted by KCC Director of Retention and Student Success Oscar Herrera – who also serves as KCC Soccer Club Advisor. A shirt giveaway had been organized by Herrera and others earlier in the week to spread awareness and encourage students to pack the stands. Soccer uniforms were loaned by Henley High School, as all but the newly ordered KCC goalie jerseys were still enroute by kickoff. The KCC mascot, Baxter the Badger, even delivered the game ball to the referees.

"There are a lot of local kids that want to play at the next level," said Gonzales, a Henley graduate. "My dad (Lupe) really wanted KCC team captain Jacob Gonzales, a Henley graduate. "My dad (Lupe) soccer, and we have a lot of local really wanted to coach college soccer, and we have a lot of local soccer players that are willing to practice at night when it's cold."

Despite KCC controlling the majority of time of possession and shots on goal in the first half, it would be COCC that drew first blood, scoring with four minutes remaining in the first half. The KCC persistence eventually paid off, as with 14 minutes remaining in the second half a shot by Luz Serrato couldn't be handled by COCC's goalkeeper, hitting the top post before eventually trickling in for a tying score. Through a whirlwind of play to close out the game neither team could muster a score, resulting in a 1-1 draw.

"We have so much talent here in town that haven't done anything since high school – the fact that they were competitive shows what talent level we have here," said Coach Gonzales.

While initially a club sport, administrators hope the KCC soccer team eventually develops into a program capable of joining a collegiate league soon.

"Our community is ready to rally behind a community sports team, and this brings all of us together to root for our Basin athletes," said Herrera. "In the next couple of years, we will be able to provide exciting opportunities for student to both compete and continue their education."
