January 20, 2025, is Inauguration Day

By Ingfruno - Own work

The inauguration of Donald Trump as the 47th president of the United States will take place on Monday, January 20, 2025, on the West Front of the United States Capitol in Washington, D.C. It will be the 60th U.S. presidential inauguration and the second inauguration of Trump as U.S. president, marking the commencement of his second and final non-consecutive term as U.S. president, the term of JD Vance as the 50th U.S. vice president, and the only non-consecutive re-inauguration for a U.S. president after the second inauguration of Grover Cleveland in 1893. Trump's first inauguration was eight years earlier, in January 2017.

The event will include a swearing-in ceremony, a signing ceremony, an inaugural luncheon, a pass-in-review, a procession, and a parade. Inaugural balls are held at various venues before and after the inaugural ceremonies. Several Democratic members of Congress have decided to boycott Trump's inauguration.

In May 2024, both houses of Congress appointed a Joint Committee on Inaugural Ceremonies to oversee the construction of the platform and other temporary structures that will be necessary for the ceremonies and celebrations.

Construction of the inaugural platform ceremonially began on September 18, 2024, with the driving of the first nail by United States Senator Amy Klobuchar using a nail made from iron ore mined and processed from the Iron Range.

In October 2024, the United States Capitol Police conducted an intelligence assessment that concluded an activist group "with a history of large-scale demonstrations involving illegal activity plans to protest the Inauguration regardless of the outcome" and that other groups protesting the Israel-Hamas war were "nearly certain to target the Inauguration" regardless of the winner in the U.S. presidential election. According to the New York Times, organizers of the 2017 Women's March were committed to recreating it under the refreshed branding "People's March", though were unclear if attendance would approach the numbers of the 2017 event.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY given that the Lake County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing Tuesday, January 21, 2025, at 6:00pm, at the Lake County Courthouse at 513 Center Street, Lakeview, Oregon 97630, or by Zoom (<https://us06web.zoom.us/j/84185606888>) to receive public comment and testimony on the following applications. Failure to raise an issue at the hearing or to provide sufficient specificity precludes your ability to appeal the decision. If you have needs requiring special arrangements, please call 541-947-6036 at least 24 hours prior to the meeting.

POST ACKNOWLEDGEMENT PLAN AMENDMENT, and ZONE CHANGE: APPLICATION NO. 24-040-CPC,ZC

Public Hearing concerning an application by Rick Harris with R&H Investments, Inc. to change the designation of the subject property from Agriculture (A) to Industrial (I). The Applicant also requests approval of a corresponding Zone Change from Agriculture Use (A-2) to Rural Industrial (M-1 Light Industrial) on a 20.00-acre parcel, described as T27S R18E S08 TL600, approximately 3.25 miles north-east of Christmas Valley: approximately 3 miles east to Carrico Road, then north 0.25 mile to the southwest corner of the property; in an A-2 Agriculture Use zone, with a Comprehensive Plan Designation of A – Agriculture. A decision will be based on Articles 28 of the amended Lake County Zoning Ordinance of 1980, and applicable ORS and OAR.

Note from the Editor:

In the last issue, January 1st edition, I published broad facts about Crypto Mining Facilities and an example of one such facility in a similarly sized area as Christmas Valley. The information caused concern in the community and for that I apologize.

The above notice is for an application for change in zoning designation from Agricultural Use (A-2) to Rural Industrial (M-1 Light Industrial Use), it is not a hearing about the land owners intended use. Infact, the landowner does not have to have any permission from the County, the State, or at the Federal level for this use. There are no regulations for this type of facility. You could have a neighbor using their garage for a Crypto Mining Facility.

I was able to reach out to Mr. Harris of R&H Investments, Inc. and he was gracious enough to allow me to publish the letter he wrote to the community to allay any worries about his intentions of use of his property.

I admire the fact that Mr. Harris has gone through all of the necessary channels to ensure that he is in compliance with Lake County Ordinances and all the other regulatory hoops regarding use of electricity and water. You only have to look around Christmas Valley and the surrounding areas to see that there are plenty of property owners who do not do their due diligence when it comes to land use and complying with the County Ordinances.

Sincerely,

Karen Morgan, Editor

Letter to the Christmas Valley and surrounding Community from Rick Harris, R&H Investments, Inc.

Greetings All,

I have been informed that since my application for a rezone of my 20 acres East of Christmas Valley has been made public, there has been some concern and/or speculation about my intended use for the property. R&H Investments, Inc. is not a foreign-owned mega corporation, it is a husband and wife owned S-Corp located in Prineville, Oregon with zero employees. I am a retired electrician who took up Cryptocurrency mining about 5 years ago as a hobby and it has grown from there.

The type of data mining proposed is a closed loop system which recirculates and reuses all of its water. On top of that, the property has NO water rights meaning that it is restricted by Lake County to a maximum of 5,000 gallons per day via well water. It would be most accurate to compare it to the radiator in your car. The water cools the computer equipment and then the hot water is pumped outside into dry coolers which are basically radiators with fans moving air through them. The cycle then repeats itself. Once the system is filled and placed into service, it requires very little additional water. Lake county already has noise restrictions in place for Light Industrial properties. Zoning requirements Article 10, Section 10.04(A) states that noise levels must be compliant with DEQ/EPA standards. The computer equipment will be water cooled, not air cooled, HUGE difference. There is zero comparison to be made to that North Carolina facility (I am personally very opposed to these types of facilities as well), which is comprised of thousands of 6,000rpm fans air cooling their equipment and then massive fans expelling the hot air with zero sound dampening. The only noise from this facility will be the sound of the fans blowing air through the cooling radiators. Little, if any, noise will be audible at my property line.

Yes, this operation uses large amounts of power which is precisely why this site was chosen. The Millican substation just East of Christmas Valley has, for decades, operated at only a small fraction of its designed output due to a growth plan from the 1960's and 1970's that never materialized. This is not power that will be diverted from elsewhere, it is simply capacity that is not being utilized. Midstate Electric has come out in favor of the project mainly because, along with the consumption of stranded power, they will have the ability to curtail the use of this power during peak times if it is needed elsewhere (Midstate's letter is included with the application info on the Lake County Planning website). We are very Blessed in the Northwest to get the bulk of our power through hydroelectric dams. Our current power mix from BPA is 86% hydro, 10% nuclear, and 4 percent "renewable/others". BPA claims to produce "carbon free" electricity, we are not burning coal or natural gas for this project.

The current plan for the property calls for a residence which will be inhabited by a full time employee, and a 10 to 20 thousand square foot datacenter (for size comparison, Dollar General is 10,792 square feet). From the road it will look like every other residence and hay barn in the area.

I hope this clears up any misconceptions, I am more than willing to answer any questions you might have. I can be reached at (503)791-0349 and my email address is rrhj2003@gmail.com.

Thanks for hearing me out and have a Blessed day,

Rick Harris
President, R&H Investments, Inc.

10 Things You May Not Know About Martin Luther King Jr.

Explore 10 surprising facts about the civil rights leader.

by: CHRISTOPHER KLEIN

Baptist minister and social activist Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. (1929-1968) dedicated his life to the non-violent struggle for justice in the United States. King's leadership played a pivotal role in ending entrenched segregation for African Americans and to the creation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

1. King's Birth Name Was Michael, Not Martin

King was born Michael King Jr. on January 15, 1929. In 1934, however, his father, a pastor at Atlanta's Ebenezer Baptist Church, traveled to Germany and became inspired by the Protestant Reformation leader Martin Luther. As a result, King Sr. changed his own name as well as that of his five-year-old son.

2. King Entered College At the Age of 15

King was such a gifted student that he skipped grades nine and 12 before enrolling in 1944 at Morehouse College, the alma mater of his father and maternal grandfather. Although he was the son, grandson and great-grandson of Baptist ministers, King did not intend to follow the family vocation until Morehouse president Benjamin E. Mays, a noted theologian, convinced him otherwise. King was ordained before graduating college with a degree in sociology.

3. King Received His Doctorate in Systematic Theology

After earning a divinity degree from Pennsylvania's Crozer Theological Seminary, King attended graduate school at Boston University, where he received his Ph.D. degree in 1955. The title of his dissertation was "A Comparison of the Conceptions of God in the Thinking of Paul Tillich and Henry Nelson Wieman."

4. King's 'I Have a Dream' Speech Was Not His First At the Lincoln Memorial

Six years before his iconic oration at the March on Washington, King was among the civil rights leaders who spoke in the shadow of the Great Emancipator during the Prayer Pilgrimage for Freedom on May 17, 1957. Before a crowd estimated at between 15,000 and 30,000, King delivered his first national address on the topic of voting rights. His speech, in which he urged America to "give us the ballot," drew strong reviews and positioned him at the forefront of the civil rights leadership.

5. King Was Imprisoned Nearly 30 Times

According to the King Center, the civil rights leader went to jail 29 times. He was arrested for acts of civil disobedience and on trumped-up charges, such as when he was jailed in Montgomery, Alabama, in 1956 for driving 30 miles per hour in a 25-mile-per-hour zone.

6. King Narrowly Escaped an Assassination Attempt a Decade Before His Death

On September 20, 1958, King was in Harlem signing copies of his new book, Stride Toward Freedom, in Blumstein's department store when he was approached by Izola Ware Curry. The woman asked if he was Martin Luther King Jr. After he said yes, Curry said, "I've been looking for you for five years," and she plunged a seven-inch letter opener into his chest. The tip of the blade came to rest alongside his aorta, and King underwent hours of delicate emergency surgery. Surgeons later told King that just one sneeze could have punctured the aorta and killed him. From his hospital bed where he convalesced for weeks, King issued a statement affirming his nonviolent principles and saying he felt no ill will toward his mentally ill attacker.

7. King's Last Public Speech Foretold His Death

King had come to Memphis in April 1968 to support the strike of the city's Black garbage workers, and in a speech on the night before his assassination, he told an audience at Mason Temple Church: "Like anybody, I would like to live a long life. Longevity has its place. But I'm not concerned about that now ... I've seen the Promised Land. I may not get there with you. But I want you to know tonight, that we, as a people, will get to the Promised Land. And I'm happy tonight. I'm not worried about anything. I'm not fearing any man. Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord."

8. Members of King's Family Did Not Believe James Earl Ray Acted Alone

Ray, a career criminal, pled guilty to King's assassination but later recanted. King's son Dexter met publicly with Ray in 1997 and argued for the case to be reopened. King's widow, Coretta, believed the Mafia and local, state and federal government agencies were deeply involved in the murder. She praised the result of a 1999 civil trial in which a Memphis jury decided the assassination was the result of a conspiracy and that Ray was set up to take the blame. A U.S. Department of Justice investigation released in 2000 reported no evidence of a conspiracy.

9. King's Mother Was Also Slain By a Bullet

On June 30, 1974, as 69-year-old Alberta Williams King played the organ at a Sunday service inside Ebenezer Baptist Church, Marcus Wayne Chenault Jr. rose from the front pew, drew two pistols and began to fire shots. One of the bullets struck and killed King, who died steps from where her son had preached nonviolence. The deranged gunman said that Christians were his enemy and that although he had received divine instructions to kill King's father, who was in the congregation, he killed King's mother instead because she was closer. The shooting also left a church deacon dead. Chenault received a death penalty sentence that was later changed to life imprisonment, in part due to the King family's opposition to capital punishment.

10. George Washington and Abraham Lincoln Are the Only Other Americans to Have Had Their Birthdays Observed as a National Holiday

In 1983 President Ronald Reagan signed a bill that created a federal holiday to honor King. The holiday, first commemorated in 1986, is celebrated on the third Monday in January, close to the civil rights leader's January 15 birthday.

A Prayer for Protection for Our Leaders

Heavenly Protector, we ask for Your divine protection over the leaders of our nation. Guard their hearts and minds from evil. Keep them safe from harm, both seen and unseen. Surround them with Your angels as they carry out their duties, and protect them from attacks that seek to undermine their work. May they feel Your presence and rely on Your strength in every circumstance.

"For He shall give His angels charge over you, To keep you in all your ways"
